WALLACE LEVIES TOBACCO PROCESSING TAX IN EFFORT TO RAISE PRICE, REDUCE YIELD

Roosevelt Sees Coal Code Agreement by Tonight

PRESIDENT BRINGS PRESSURE TO BEAR TO END DEADLOCK

16 Persons Felled by Police Bullets at Uniontown, Pa., in Battle Brought on by Code Protest Strike.

FEDERAL AGENTS SENT TO MINES

Strike of Chicago Independent Milk Producers Continues With Price Hike Imminent.

By the Associated Press. President Roosevelt stepped dramatically into the Pennsylvania coal strike situation, ordering an investigation of the shooting of 16 persons and calling NRA leaders, coal operators and union representatives to discuss with him last night an immediate working code for the industry.

Following the conference President Roosevelt issued a formal statement, in which he asserted an agreement on the coal code is expected tonight.

Sixteen men were shot and more than a score were beaten and stoned in rioting at Uniontown, Pa., as a mining holiday started in the southwestern Pennsylvania coal fields. The clashes occurred as pickets tried to prevent men from entering the pits. Governor Pinchot, of Pennsylvania, called at the White House, while General Hugh S. Johnson, recovery administrator, hurried to Washington from New York.

Federal agents were sent to the mines to co-operate with the governor's representatives in an investigation.

Pickets of the anthracite miners of Pennsylvania and members of the United Mine Workers of America engaged in a hand-to-hand battle in North Scranton, Pa. One man was injured, and 15 were given a police reprimand.

On instructions from Governor Pinchot 19 officers and 345 national guardsmen late Thursday were ordered to mobilize at Harrisburg in preparation for immediate movement to the soft coal strike area of southwestern Pennsylvania.

Meanwhile the strike of silk dye workers in northern New Jersey continued with great hope of settlement until after hearings on the industry's code in Washington next week.

Grain workers at 29 Buffalo, N. Y., elevators began to return after a strike of nearly two weeks.

In Chicago a strike of independent milk producers continued, with prospects of the price being raised from 10 to 11 cents a quart.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14.—(AP)—In a significant White House conference, President Roosevelt tonight demanded action from the bituminous coal industry upon an NRA code and apparently got it.

He announced a few minutes after the representatives of mine operators and miners had left his oval study that the long-controverted charter for the troubled soft coal fields probably

City Rushes To Aid Roland And Spot Is Saved From Death

Here's Roland and Spot a few moments after the dog was released from the pound. Staff photo.

Good old Spot hasn't a pedigree but Roland loves him as only a boy can love a dog and Roland found out Thursday that grown-ups sympathize with a fellow about to lose his pal. Big tears—those weeps you have heard about—fell unashamed from Roland's eyes Wednesday as he took one last farewell look at Spot because the dog was going to die. Roland couldn't buy a license tag and had no money to pay for inoculation.

The dog catcher was in sympathy but law is law and an officer can't spend all his pay buying license tags. It looked fatal for Spot—and Roland felt that the silver lining wasn't.

Hartsfield Act, Putting Old Committee Out, Is Upheld in Decision.

The Georgia legislature had a right to force selection of a new democratic executive committee for Atlanta, the state supreme court ruled Thursday, but election of a new committee of 52 from Atlanta's 13 wards hinged, it was believed Thursday night, on whether the remitter from the high tribunal reaches Fulton county courts before next Wednesday—the date of the election.

Judge John D. Humphries, of Fulton county superior court, ruled that the executive committee, headed by Dr. Samuel Green, should enter the names of John A. Harper, Robert L. Goodman and W. H. Howell as candidates for executive committee posts from various wards, and Green and the executive committee appealed to the high tribunal.

It also was pointed out that in ordinary litigation, a case is not decided until the remitter reaches the lower court and that the sustained position of Judge Humphries is not yet the order of the court.

Mrs. Read Wins $75,000 Judgment Against Actress for 'Love Theft'

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 14.—(AP)—A verdict that blond Claire Windsor, of the stage and screen, stole the love of Alfred C. Read Jr., handsome former Oakland broker, was returned late today by a jury trying the damages suit of his divorced wife, Marian Young Read, who was awarded $75,000 of the $100,000 damages she asked.

"It is outrageous," the actress said, "her face flushed. 'I don't see how I ever could pay it.'"

Mrs. Windsor's attorneys said they would appeal, asserting the evidence was insufficient and the damages awarded were excessive.

Ten of the twelve jurors voted for the verdict. A vote of 9 to 3 is required for a decision.

ONE MAN KILLED, J. B. MALLETT HURT IN HIGHWAY CRASH

Dead Man Not Identified After Crash at Tallapoosa; Senator Believed Fatally Hurt.

An unidentified man was killed and State Senator Joel B. Mallett, of Jackson, was probably fatally injured early Thursday night in an automobile accident in Tallapoosa, in which several other persons were also hurt. The accident occurred in the center of Tallapoosa on the Bankhead highway. The car driven by Mallett's companion and occupied by Senator Mallett and C. C. White, of 1342 Mays avenue, and C. W. Milligan, of 825 Kirkwood avenue, Atlanta, crashed head-on with a truck driven by Charles McRae, of Huntsville, Ala.

Mallett was unconscious and was placed in an ambulance to be taken to Atlanta. A Tallapoosa physician, who pronounced the driver dead, said the other man had little chance to live.

H. C. Pope, night chief of police of Tallapoosa, said he was holding White and Milligan in connection with the accident. He had made no charges against them but said the death car was being driven at a speed exceeding 60 miles per hour. The machine was demolished.

Senator Mallett is one of the best-known members of the Georgia legislature, having been named to the senate in the last election. He is a member of a prominent Butts county family and formerly served as ordinary at Jackson.

Since graduation from the University of Georgia and Yale University, where he won high honors, Mr. Mallett has been engaged in the practice of law in Jackson. During the administration of Clifford Walker as governor of Georgia, Mr. Mallett was adjutant general of the state. He served in the world war.

Chief Pope said Mallett and the driver occupied the front seat of the car and White and Milligan were on the rear.

Mrs. Mallett, who resides at the hotel Buchanan in Jackson, said her husband came to Atlanta Wednesday on business and that he telephoned her Thursday afternoon that he would be delayed in returning. She rushed to the hospital to be with her husband.

She said she had no idea where Senator Mallett was going when the accident occurred. They have a small son 2-1/2 years of age.

Mallett was active in the legislative and was chairman of the penitentiary committee and vice chairman of the motor vehicle committee.

MONTREAL, Sept. 14.—(AP)—Extra guards were posted about the hotel suite of Gerardo Machado, deposed Cuban president and living in retirement here, when it became known today that members of the A. B. C. Cuban revolutionary society were in Montreal.

The A. B. C. was in large part responsible for the overturn of the Machado regime.

TVA Sets Shoals Power Rate At Less Than Half That Paid By Average Domestic User

By DON J. KIRKLEY.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14.—(AP)—As a part of the federal experiment to see whether the light bulbs could be cut for American households, the Tennessee Valley Authority today outlined a list of rates for Muscle Shoals.

The Authority, the first of the governmental agencies by which President Roosevelt proposed that power costs be measured, set rates that would be a mere scolding does any good.

In that address, he set forth as an "undeniable right" of a municipal, state or district government, the authority to set up its own electric service, adding:

"It is perfectly clear to me, and to every thinking citizen that no community which is sure that it is now being served well and at reasonable rates by a private utility company will seek to build or operate its own plant."

"But on the other hand the very fact that a community can, by vote of its citizens, elect to build its own plant."

Pryor Bowen Jury Deadlocked After Hearing Youth Assert He Joined Plot To Help Ottley

Instructed by the court that it has no power to pardon or to refuse to convict if it believes that Pryor Bowen aided in the kidnapping for ransom of John K. Ottley Sr., president of the First National Bank of Atlanta, the jury in the Lavinia youth's case late Thursday night went to a hotel for the night "hopelessly" deadlocked.

The jury was reported voting "six to six." The jury received the case at 7:20 o'clock, spent an hour at supper and then deliberated until 10:15 o'clock before being sent away from the courtroom. One recharge was requested and Judge John D. Humphries, presiding in the case, repeated the part of the charge instructing the jury that nothing in the case could justify an acquittal on the ground that Bowen was coerced into aiding William R. Delinski, 27, of Miami, who Wednesday night received a sentence of 21 years on kidnapping, robbery and pistol charges.

Bowen drove the kidnapping car in which Mr. Ottley was taken to Suwanee, Ga., about 35 miles north of Atlanta, after being held up at pistol point as he drove into Peachtree road from his residence.

Bowen effected Mr. Ottley's release after Delinski left the two in a remote place near the Chattahoochee river to return to Atlanta and deliver a ransom note demanding $40,000. The Lavinia youth contended in his trial that he "went into the thing" solely to help Mr. Ottley, but Judge John D. Humphries, in his charge to the jury late Thursday, cautioned that the contention was not substantiated.

"If you believe that Delinski formed an intent and purpose to commit the crime of kidnapping," Judge Humphries charged, "and if you further believe that he communicated the purpose to the defendant Bowen, and that thereafter the crime of kidnapping was committed as charged in the indictment, and that Bowen aided in the commission of the crime by driving the car used for the commission of the crime . . . it would be your duty to convict, notwithstanding that

"Pretty Boy" Reported Planning Film Venture

OKLAHOMA CITY, Sept. 14.—(AP)—Charles "Pretty Boy" Floyd, so the state bureau of criminal investigation hears—is trying to crash the movie business.

Rumors from Hollywood have it that the slippery Oklahoma outlaw, hunted for murder and a long list of bank robberies, wants to star in a picture built around the theme that crime never pays.

It was rumored that Floyd plans to turn to the movie business, creating an endowment for his son, Jackie, 10 years old.

Six divisional offices of the state highway department were ordered abolished Thursday and their activities consolidated into divisions in three cities, East Point, Macon and Fitzgerald "to promote economy and efficiency, and to centralize operations."

J. J. Mangham, chairman of the highway board, in announcing the action of the board, said the changes were ordered with "the idea of the consolidation being to promote economy and efficiency, and to centralize operations, as well as to keep field forces in closer touch with the board."

"The consolidation will result in a considerable reduction in personnel, but it is impossible to say at this time just how many employees will be affected, or how much money is to be saved," said Mr. Mangham.

The divisional headquarters abolished

Dictatorship Plan Mapped For Cuba

By EDMUND A. CHESTER. (Copyright, 1933, by The Associated Press.)

HAVANA, Sept. 14.—(AP)—The government of President Ramon Grau San Martin tonight announced a seven-point plan of administration for Cuba, which contained promise of a virtual, although benevolent, dictatorship.

Simultaneously it threw the heaviest guard yet placed around Havana's Hotel Nacional, where 500 Cuban army officers, ousted in last week's enlisted men's coup, were definitely demanding restoration of their status.

President de Cespedes, Machine guns were trained on four sides of the huge, high-set hotel.

Harrassed by labor unrest in the interior, which grew more serious hourly, not recognized by the United States, facing food shortage in the nation's capital and hearing on every side the report that revolt against it is imminent, the Grau San Martin administration

FLUE-CURED RATE SET AT 4.2 CENTS UNDER NEW ORDER

Regulation Becomes Effective October 1, With Returns To Go To Farmers or To Land Rentals To Regulate Crop.

LEVY TO BE BASED ON FARM WEIGHING

Tax Must Be Paid by First Domestic Fabricator, Not By "Stemmer" or by "Sweater."

By FRANCIS M. LEMAY.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14.—(AP)—Secretary Wallace today imposed a processing tax on tobacco, thus placing it with cotton and wheat in the administration effort to enhance the farmer's income.

Effective October 1, the returns will be used for payments to farmers or payment for land rentals to regulate production of the leaf.

It sets a 1.7 cents a pound excise for Maryland tobacco, 2 cents for Burley, 4.2 cents for flue-cured, 2.9 cents for flue-cured and 3 cents for cigar tobacco.

Georgia tobacco growers produce flue-cured leaf entirely. The 1933 crop just recently sold approximated 30,000,000 pounds, one of the largest on record in the state.

Farm Weights. These rates are based on farm weights. For adjustment after shrinkage from sweating, drying, etc., until it reaches the processor, a second excise was prescribed to restore the weight processed to the equivalent of farm weight.

Therefore the farm weight rate quotation will be used primarily for computing the weight and tax at the time of processing, the actual point of tax liability, and to determine the tax to be charged against floors already processed as the regulation becomes effective. Still another rate was quoted for leaf after it has been stemmed.

When Maryland tobacco is processed, the measure of tax will be 1.3 cents a pound, this additional one-tenth cent covering the loss from shrinkage after the tobacco is weighed on the farm to the time processed. Whenever Maryland from which stem has been removed is processed the levy will be 2.4 cents.

Three classifications. This three-class schedule is quoted for all classifications of tobacco. Burley, unstemmed when processed, will be taxed 2.5 cents; when stem is removed, the excise will be 3.1.

Processing of unstemmed flue-cured will carry a tax of 4.7 cents and flue-cured stemmed leaf, 5.1.

Unstemmed flue-cured will be taxed when processed 3.2 cents and stemmed, 3.8 cents.

Restore Pay Cut, Key Asks Council

Finance Committee Expected To Approve Salary Restoration.

Restoration of 10 per cent of the salary slashes imposed on 2,500 employees of the municipal government was recommended Thursday by Mayor James L. Key and council's finance committee, headed by Alderman Ed A. Gilliam, is expected to approve the proposal at a meeting to be held at 1 o'clock this afternoon at the city hall. If the plan is made applicable to all departments, the pay rolls will be increased about $55,000 a month.

The council Monday regularly will vote on the plan and its easy passage was predicted freely.

In a letter to B. Graham West, city comptroller, Key pointed out that such action would be in keeping with the "spirit of NRA," and that it would be regarded as a contribution of the local government in backing federal authorities.

If the cut is restored it would not affect immediately about 2,000 employees of the school department, since salaries of board of education employees are fixed by the board itself.

It was said, however, that the move is designed to secure similar consideration for school teachers. Funds to provide for the restoration; in that division will be provided.

Salary slashes ranging from 10 per cent to 25 per cent are now in effect. Key cited the fact that collections this year are in excess of anticipations. He said this is due largely to the efficient work of Riley Elder, municipal revenue collector, and Joe C. McRae.

Telfair Physicians Refuse Service To Debtors Except on Cash Basis

MCRAE, Ga., Sept. 14.—(AP)—Many of them would work for the doctors of the county four years without pay.

They have reached such a financial straits that the physicians are spending more time trying to keep their affairs straight than they do to the study of medicine and said such a practice would be "poor doctors."

On September 15, 1933, the statement concluded, "we hereby pledge ourselves not to visit anyone who owes either of the undersigned doctors whose names appear on the delinquent or bad pay list except cash in advance for service."

The names of the following physicians appeared below the statement in the Enterprise: J. W. Neal, Foster T. Harbin, O. B. Youmans, O. A. Harrell, T. J. McMillan, D. W. F. Maloy, J. K. Fussell, T. D. Fussell, A. J. Jones, W. H. Born, F. B. Maqua, Q. F. Cullum and C. J. Maloy.

NEW COTTON GROUP GETS DOWN TO WORK

Co-operative Seeks To Create New Methods To Meet Marketing Conditions.

Working smoothly, the Georgia Cotton Co-operative Association Thursday started its job of "creating new methods to meet new conditions in marketing cotton," according to B. L. Redwine, president of the new co-operative.

Gathering for the first meeting, the board of directors named Mr. Redwine of Macon, president; G. E. Youmans, of Adrian, first vice president; C. A. Summerour, of Duluth, second vice president; J. Frank Farmer, of Midville, and W. S. Williams, of Woodbury, were named members of the executive committee along with the president and two vice presidents. Mr. Redwine said it was the purpose of the new organization to establish branch offices in the state so that a sufficient volume of cotton can be obtained and where a marketing service on a competitive basis will be available to members.

J. E. Conwell, president of the Georgia Cotton Growers' Association, which was absorbed by the new body, declined to accept a place as a director but said the new group could count on his whole-hearted support. Mr. Redwine said all forces were in "harmonious co-operation."

Mr. Redwine said the executive committee will remain in close contact and in meetings until all problems of operation can be worked out.

Night Plane Passenger Schedule To New York Will Start Tonight

Night air passenger service between Atlanta and New York will be inaugurated tonight over the lines of Eastern Air Transport when two 18-passenger Condor night passenger planes equipped for sleeping comfort, will wing their way between the two cities. With Mayor James L. Key aboard, the Atlanta plane will take off at 7:20 o'clock tonight and arrive in New York at 3 o'clock, Atlanta time, Saturday morning.

Other guests of Eastern Air Transport to make the initial flight will be Alva Sole, air mail postal official; J. M. Jones Jr., president of the Birmingham city commission; E. B. Landry, Liberty Mutual Insurance Company executive, and mayors of other leading cities along the route.

The southbound plane will leave Newark at 9:40 o'clock tonight and arrive at Candler field at 5:30 o'clock Saturday morning. Stops of both ships will be made at Greenville, Spartanburg, Charlotte, Greensboro, Richmond, Baltimore (on signal), and Philadelphia.

At the same time, day passenger service on E. A. T. will be speeded up to cut 1 hour and 20 minutes from the flying time, starting today. American Airways, on the line from New Orleans to Atlanta, is inaugurating a schedule to furnish overnight service to New York from New Orleans, with planes leaving there at 1:37 o'clock in the afternoon and arriving in Atlanta in time for the E. A. T. night plane to New York.

"NOT CONSTIPATED FOR SEVEN WEEKS"

Writes Mrs. Johnson After Using Kellogg's ALL-BRAN

Sufferers from constipation will be interested in this unsolicited letter:

"Your ALL-BRAN surely relieves constipation. I am so glad over the good it has done me that I feel I must write and tell you of it."

"For lunch I take a banana, a large one. Six tablespoons of ALL-BRAN in a sauce dish, and dip banana at each bite until all is consumed. I haven't been constipated now for seven weeks."—Mrs. Louise Johnson, 1433 Forest Street, Denver, Colorado.

Constipation often causes headaches, loss of appetite and energy, sleeplessness. This condition is usually due to lack of "bulk" to exercise the intestines, and vitamin B to further promote regular habits. Kellogg's ALL-BRAN has both, as well as iron for the blood.

The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is much like that in leafy vegetables. Within the body, it forms a soft mass. Gently, it clears out the wastes.

Try ALL-BRAN in place of patent medicines—often harmful. Two tablespoons daily will overcome most types of constipation. Chronic cases, with each meal. If not relieved this way, see your doctor.

Use as a cereal, or in cooking. Recipes on the red-and-green package. Sold by all grocers. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Fall Desserts.

Fall desserts are more substantial than those served in the summer.

"Cure fatigue by eating sugar, simple candies or dessert," says noted home economist.

Children, like grown-ups, need sweets to provide heat and energy.

September is the month of the harvest moon, which officially declares the arrival of the autumn season. The gradually shortening days remind the homemaker that she must change her menu from the light, heat-preventing foods to those that are more productive of energy and more substantial.

Energy or heat is most quickly, economically and easily secured from sugars, or from foods that are sweet.

While the women who like to maintain a svelte figure watch their sweets with caution, it is nevertheless true that many of these same women would be better off if they included more sugar in their diet. One of the first indications of lack of sugar is fatigue.

It is most easily cured by the eating of a little sugar, either plain, in the form of sweet chocolate or other simple candy or of desserts.

Children especially because of their constant moving about, running and jumping, need plenty of sugar daily.

Many mothers think they should not give their children candy, but this is not true. Children should have candy, or other sweets, in order to supply the needed calories for energy-production. One of the best ways to incorporate sufficient sugar in the diet of children is to give them desserts after their main meal.

Fall desserts are more substantial than those served in the summer. Add some of these interesting ones to your menu.

Gingerbread Pudding.

One cup molasses, 1 cup brown sugar, 3 tablespoons butter, 1-4 cup boiling water, 2 well-beaten eggs, 3 cups sifted flour, 1 teaspoon baking soda, 1-4 teaspoon ginger, 1 cup chopped preserved ginger.

Heat the molasses, sugar and butter with the hot water. Remove from fire. Combine dry ingredients with the fruit, add to first mixture. Last of all stir in the eggs.

Four into a buttered pudding mold and steam for three hours; or steam in a large greased double boiler for three hours. Serve hot with whipped cream, or plain cream and sugar, or with a hot vanilla sauce.

Norske Pie.

Three-fourths cup pancake batter, 2 eggs, 1-2 cup sugar, 1 tablespoon butter, 1-4 teaspoon cinnamon, 6 medium-sized apples.

Peel and slice nice fall cooking apples into a buttered pie plate. Sprinkle them with the sugar and cinnamon, dot with the butter.

To the pancake batter, add the 2 eggs, well beaten. Pour the pancake batter over apples. Bake in moderate 350-degree oven until apples are cooked, about 30 minutes. Serve as you would any pie, or with cream and sugar if desired.

Apple Macaroon.

Five medium-sized apples, 1 cup sugar, 1 tablespoon butter, 1 egg, well beaten, 1-2 cup flour, sifted; salt, cinnamon.

Peel and core about five medium-sized fall cooking apples. Slice and place in a pie pan. Sprinkle over them 1-2 cup sugar and cinnamon enough to season.

Cream together 1-2 cup sugar and 1 tablespoon butter, add 1 egg, well beaten, a pinch of salt and 1-2 cup sifted flour. Beat well. Spread this batter over the apples and bake in moderate oven, 375 degrees, for about 25 minutes. Serve with a hot sauce.

Honey Bread Custard.

Three slices buttered bread, 1 quart milk, 4 eggs, 1-4 cup sugar, 1 cup strained honey, preserved cherries or fruits.

Beat eggs and sugar slightly, add milk and honey. Pour into a buttered baking dish, place bread in the liquid, buttered side up.

Bake in moderate oven until firm. Test the custard by inserting a plain silver knife blade in center. When the knife comes out clean, the custard is set. Decorate on top with fresh or preserved fruits. Serve cold, with plain cream if desired.

Collegiate Pudding.

One-fourth cup hot cider or grape juice, 3-8 cup butter, 1 pint (2 cups) coarse stale cake crumbs, 1-2 cup chopped seeded raisins, 6 tablespoons sugar, 1 1-4 teaspoons ground mace or grated nutmeg, 3 beaten eggs.

Melt the butter in the hot fruit juice, stir in the bread crumbs (or use stale cake crumbs). Add the raisins, sugar, spice and beaten eggs. Beat together well for a few minutes, set the mixture away in cold place until it is firm. Then form into balls the size of an egg, fry in hot fat until golden brown. Or make into flat cakes like codfish cakes and fry in hot butter in a frying pan. Serve with any kind of sweet pudding sauce and garnish with some bright red jelly such as currant or green grape.

Grandma's Carrot Custard.

One-half cup grated carrots, 1 quart milk, 1-2 cup sugar, 1-2 teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon vanilla, 4 eggs. Beat eggs, sugar and salt together, add grated carrots and vanilla. Beat smooth, add the milk, pour into a buttered pudding or baking dish and bake in slow 300-degree oven for about an hour. Set the baking pan in a shallow pan of hot water, to prevent overcooking of bottom part of custard.

Apricot Surprise Pudding.

One egg, 2 tablespoons sugar, 1 cup sifted flour, 1 teaspoon baking powder, 1-2 cup milk, 1-4 cup melted butter, 1 teaspoon vanilla extract, 2 cups sieved apricots, 1 cup whipped cream, 3 tablespoons ground almonds.

Beat eggs and sugar, sift in flour and baking powder, add milk, butter, vanilla and apricots. (Use cooked dried apricots.) Pour into buttered pudding dish, steam for half an hour. Cover with the whipped cream, sweetened, and sprinkle with the chopped, blanched almonds.

Onion Soup Available

Now in Canned Form.

Onion soup, favorite food of the French gourmets and one of the national dishes of that country, celebrated the two-hundredth anniversary of its discovery a few days ago. In Hollywood a mammoth breakfast was given in honor of the anniversary, with motion picture stars, film luminaries and many Hollywood residents in attendance.

Simultaneously with the celebration came the announcement that the famous soup, for the first time, was available to American housewives in canned form. Kettles of it were used at the breakfast, prepared in the manner and containing all of the ingredients that has made it France's favorite. They were filled with crisp French fried onions, properly mixed with beef broth and grated parmesan cheese.

There is no other food that contains the twang and flavor of real onion soup. Men like it, particularly those who learned to expect it as a part of their feasts while on leave in France during the war. It is a favorite late night dish and a most desirable first course either for luncheon or dinner. But it has been neglected by our housewives because of the time and trouble necessary to prepare it at home.

The new canned soup, however, eliminates the difficulty of preparation. It contains all of the ingredients of that so eagerly sought by French and Americans alike at Les Halles, the market place of Paris, and should prove a welcome addition to the pantry shelf. The canned soup is made by first French frying the shredded onions in butter. These are added, with the cheese, to the can into which a unit of rich beef stock has been poured. The can is then sealed so that none of the flavor can escape and the soup is cooked right in the container. It requires only heating to be ready for serving.

According to Hollywood as well as the dusty archives of the Paris libraries, the onion soup first came into prominence in the early eighteenth century when Alexandre Dumas in his Grand Dictionnaire de Cuisine suggested it as an excellent food for sportsmen and hunters because of its nourishing value. During the French revolution Villand with his democratic tastes, further popularized it and made this dish of the peasants a delicacy with the aristocratic classes.

You will no doubt be able to find the new canned onion soup at your corner grocery but in case you want to make it yourself, try this recipe, which is one of the best:

Onion Soup.

Three slices bread, 6 medium-sized onions, 3 tablespoons butter, 1 quart soup stock, or 5 bouillon cubes and 1 quart water, 1-2 cup grated parmesan cheese.

Slice onions and brown in butter. Add soup stock and bring to boil. Put in casserole. Slice bread 1-2 inch thick, cut in halves, and toast lightly. Float on top of soup and sprinkle with grated cheese. Bake in hot oven (350 degrees Fahrenheit), 10 minutes, or until cheese melts.

Three Atlanta Bankers Get Honors in National Groups

Ransom Leads Commission of A. B. A.; Maxwell, Murrah Named by Financial Advertisers.

Three Atlanta bankers have been named to high positions in national bank organizations, according to announcements Thursday from New York.

Ronald Ransom, executive vice president of the Fulton National bank, has been elected chairman of the bank management commission of the American Bankers' Association.

Albert B. Maxwell, vice president of the Citizens & Southern National bank, was elected president of the Financial Advertisers' Association, and Wade G. Murrah, manager of the bank management commission of the American Bankers' Association, was elected secretary.

Mr. Ransom was elected chairman of the bank management commission at an organization meeting held by the group at the Chicago convention.

Orval W. Adams, vice president of the Utah State National bank, was named vice chairman, and Frank W. Simonds, of the American Bankers' Association, was elected secretary.

Mr. Ransom has been engaged in banking in Atlanta for many years and is one of the best-known financial executives in the south.

Mr. Maxwell, a native of Hall county, began his banking career in 1914 in Gainesville and after several years was named in 1919 as president of the Gainesville National bank. In 1923 he entered the public relations department of the Citizens & Southern National bank and served in that capacity for two years until he was elected vice president. He is a member of the executive committee and has direct supervision of the new business and public relations departments. He is a member of several prominent banking organizations, social and civic clubs.

Mr. Murrah has been active in affairs of the Financial Advertisers' Association for a number of years. He is also well known in advertising circles and is a member of the board of the Atlanta Advertising Club and chairman of the finance committee. Under his direction the advertising of the First National bank has attracted national attention.

The First National was one of the first financial institutions in the country to advertise bank loans in daily newspapers.

The Financial Advertisers' Association was established in 1914 as an organization of bank executives whose duties include the development of public relations and the direction of advertising and general publicity for banks and financial institutions.

TEXAN TO FIGHT FOR LEGION LEADER FOR IL DUCE, KING

NEW YORK, Sept. 14.—(AP)—Colonel W. E. Easterwood, of Dallas, Texas, vice commander of the American Legion, landed from the liner Rex today ready to do battle with critics of his action in making King Victor Emmanuel, of Italy, and Premier Mussolini honorary Legion members.

"I learned," Colonel Easterwood said, "that Premier Mussolini has been taking care of 4,000 American veterans, now living in Italy—Italians who were with the American expeditionary forces—and if that doesn't make him and the king eligible, then I'd like to know what does."

If the Legion will not sustain him in extending "honorary membership," he averred, then he will work to make the king and the premier life members.

bers and stand the $1,000 fee for each out of his own pocket.

Easterwood went to Italy to invite them to attend the American Legion convention in Chicago, October 3 and 6.

In bestowing the Legion membership, he explained, he made use of his trench cap—bearing suitable insignia:

"I put this cap on the heads of both and then pinned the American Legion medals on their breasts. Of course I took the hat back, because it's my special cap. They kept the buttons on it."

Easterwood said he was working to take the Legion convention to Rome in 1937.

DAVIS AND HENDERSON DISCUSS ARMS PARLEY

LONDON, Sept. 14.—(AP)—American Ambassador-at-Large Norman H. Davis and Arthur Henderson, president of the world disarmament conference, today discussed the general arms situation in the first of a series of preliminary conferences on the subject.

The purpose of the talks is to seek solutions for questions like those that arose with the submission of British arms reduction proposals in Geneva last March.

The British plan would provide an army of 200,000 for Germany (twice the limit in the Versailles treaty), Italy and France (also permitted an overseas force of 200,000). Italy's overseas army would be 50,000.

Woman Killer Retaken
After Prison Escape

JACKSONVILLE, Ark., Sept. 14.—(AP)—Tracked down by bloodhounds, Helen Spence Eaton, who has killed two men, was back in the state prison farm for women today after another short-lived escape. A "conscience" confession led to her imprisonment for the second slaying.

She was caught four and a half hours after she fled from the farm last night. Bloodhounds brought from Tucker prison farm cut short her freedom.

The comely brunette from the White river country now is serving a 10-year sentence for slaying Jim Roberts, a Dewitt restaurant operator, which she voluntarily confessed while on parole from another sentence.

The first prison term—five years—was for the spectacular courtroom slaying of Jack Works, while he was on trial for killing her father, Cicero Spence, on a boat on the White river.

FOLLOW THE Bible Game

$1,800 IN CASH PRIZES!

By THE BIBLE GAME EDITOR.

Enthusiastic followers of the inspiring Bible Game are getting closer to the treasure chest of prizes, represented by $1,800 in cash. The final deadline for submitting sets is midnight Wednesday, September 20. Soon thereafter the awards will be made.

Bible Game followers are again urged to take their time. No advantage is to be obtained by early submission of sets. The judges will not begin their interesting job until Thursday, September 21—so the intervening days may be used in perfecting verse-answers.

The circulation department, located on the first floor of The Atlanta Constitution building, Alabama and Forsyth streets, is keeping a large supply of back pictures in stock for the convenience of readers who may need them for extra sets or replacements.

Bible Game Facts

The Prize List.
The total prize money to be awarded Bible Game followers is $1,800. The first prize is $1,000. The second, $400; the third, $100; the fourth, $75; and the fifth, $25. There then are 10 prizes of $10 each and 20 prizes of $5 each.

To Whom Awarded.
The prizes will be given to readers who submit the 80 most appropriate verse-answers for the series of 80 pictures. Each picture was published with the rules. No subscriptions need be secured to qualify for any of the prizes.

Punctuation Considered.
Q.—Will the way verse-answers are punctuated have any bearing with the judges?—L. T. S. Atlanta.
A.—The verses must be punctuated exactly as they are in The Bible Treasury.

The Treasury.
Q.—Do you still have copies of The Bible Treasury on hand?—C. B. Rome, Ga.
A.—The Bible Treasury will be available to readers until the closing hour next Wednesday. It is 50 cents a copy, by mail, 54 cents. The Treasury has the 80 most appropriate solutions to the 80 pictures. Those who do not desire to buy this book may consult it at public libraries.

Extra Sets.
Q.—I am planning to come to Atlanta either Saturday or Monday. Would it be too late for me to get an extra set of Bible Game pictures?—Mrs. M. P. Macon, Ga.
A.—Copies of the Bible Game pictures may be kept on hand, and may be obtained at any time, right up to midnight, September 20, which is the deadline for submitting sets.

The Deadline.
Q.—You say the deadline is midnight, next Wednesday. Do you really mean that we may bring our sets that late, or does that mean that we would have to get them in during that day?—B. R. Atlanta.
A.—We'll be right here till midnight to receive any sets that come in.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14.—(AP)—Moving swiftly to remove obstacles from the recovery path, President Roosevelt today provided huge new credits for industry.

Chairman Jones of the Reconstruction Corporation, announced that as an aid and stimulant to the industrial recovery movement, the corporation would make loans to banks and trust and mortgage companies at 3 per cent interest, the money to be loaned to business houses. The loans are to be for a term of six months. In addition, Jones said, the corporation would reduce, effective October 1, its base lending rate from 4 1/2 per cent to 4 per cent.

The opening of the R. F. C. vaults for loans to private industry was designed to help business houses that desired to move along with the NRA program of higher wages and more employees but are financially unable to do so. Hugh S. Johnson, the recovery administrator, has described it as the most potent present need of the recovery program.

In announcing the new credit for industry, Jones said that the assistance by the banks which officials have said were not providing sufficient credit for industrial expansion.

The plan provides that loans to mortgage companies for more than six months, when properly secured, will be made up to five times the cash or sound capital of the company and will carry an interest rate from the R. F. C. of 4 per cent.

Mortgage companies borrowing to re-lend will be required to charge fair rates to their borrowers.

A liberal use of the above plans, coupled with widespread co-operation by banks in supplementing the nation's banking structure through the issuance of 5 per cent preferred stock to be sold to the R. F. C., Jones said, "will naturally bring the banks in more effective assistance in the president's recovery program."

Meanwhile, Secretary Ickes was considering price-fixing to prevent cut-throat competition in the oil industry, while groups opposed to use of the NRA's authority were restive under changes in the code.

"What was the need of the entire industry spending weeks agreeing on a code and obtaining approval of the various advisory boards if it is all to be junked now by a price-fixing committee?" one oil man opposed to price-fixing said privately.

Final Pictures in Rialto Theater Contest
'On Lady for a Day' Are Presented Today

From all appearances Louise and the young Count would soon be wed. It was extremely evident that they were fond of each other and now that his father was satisfied as to her social standing, nothing would prevent their marriage.

But Annie was not at ease. Her guests seemed satisfied, but she feared she could not keep up the deception much longer. Could she, she wondered, manage to deceive them until they sailed? It was only a week.

With the two pictures published above, the special contest on "Lady For a Day," feature picture which opens at the Rialto theater tomorrow, comes to a close. This contest has been run in The Constitution for the last three days, in co-operation with the management of the Rialto.

YOUTH IS SENTENCED

BROWN FACES JURY IN RICHARDSON DEATH

Five Witnesses Say They Saw DeKalb Man Fire on Family in Feud.

A family row in DeKalb county that arose over division of crops in 1932 was related for the second time in DeKalb superior court Thursday when Joe P. Brown accused the murder of Alvin Richardson, went on trial before Judge John B. Hutcheson. Convicted and given a life sentence last January, Brown was given a new trial by the judge last April on the ground that one of the main witnesses for the state had been adjudged a lunatic.

Joe P. Brown and his son, J. Pete Brown, were arrested for the murder and the shooting of John Richardson, Alvin's father, and J. M. Gaston, John's son-in-law. Pete Brown was acquitted.

Five state's witnesses testified Thursday that they saw Brown fire from his front porch into the Richardson family as they stood in front of his home. After the new trial was ordered, Brown was released on $17,000 bond in the three cases.

Among the principal witnesses used by the state Thursday were Mrs. John A. Richardson, mother of the slain man, her husband, Gaston, and Eugene and Elmer Richardson, brothers of Alvin.

The state is represented by Claude C. Smith, solicitor of the Stone Mountain circuit, and special prosecutors, Roy C. Leathers and William Schley Howard. Defense lawyers are P. K. Burns and Young H. Fraser. State lawyers said the case would last all day today and possibly run over into tomorrow.

OFFICIAL WASHINGTON TO SEE AIR PAGEANT

Word has been received by Lieutenant Colonel John A. Candler that a brilliant gathering of official Washington, including the members of President Roosevelt's cabinet and their wives, and aviation attaches of foreign embassies and legations, is promised at the national air pageant to be held at Roosevelt field, New York, October 7 and 8.

The air meet, under the auspices of the Sportsman Pilots' Association, will be staged for the benefit of the Judson Health Center, of New York; the Emergency Exchange Association, which functions nationally; the Junior Leagues outside of New York state. According to advance ticket sales it will be the largest affair of its kind in the east in 10 years, with an expected aggregate attendance of upward of 200,000 for the two days. Grandstand seats are being provided for 75,000.

The events, which will be under the direction of Captain Alford J. Williams, aviation manager for the Gulf Refining Company, will include an international relay race for the Texaco trophy; an aerial treasure hunt, sponsored by Bernard Macfadden and Liberty magazine, under the leadership of Commander Frank M. Hawks; the men's and women's flight championship contests for which Mrs. Charles Cary Rumsey and Dr. Eleanor A. Campbell have provided two $5,000 cash prizes and silver trophies; bomb dropping contests by both men and women, and an attempt to break the world's land plane speed record, now held by Major James H. Doolittle with a mark of 294.36 miles an hour.

NEEDY CHILDREN
GET $3,796 FUND,
LONG IN LITIGATION

Lucien Harris got $3,796 off his mind Thursday and the needy school children of Atlanta benefited by that amount when Judge G. H. Howard, of Fulton superior court, signed an order disposing of the fund which has been tied up in court since 1918. Mr. Harris received the money in payments of $1 each by women who registered for a white primary before the woman's suffrage amendment made them qualified voters, the city democratic executive committee passing a rule permitting women to vote in the primary.

After the money was collected, it was claimed by two groups, the city democratic executive committee and a woman's committee organized by some of the women who wanted their money back, it was said. Mr. Harris, fearful of being made to pay the money twice, took the matter into court and asked the court to dispose of the fund.

On Thursday the two groups of claimants got together and agreed that the money should be turned over to the Family Welfare Society for the needy school children of the city. And everybody was made happy, including the needy school children.

10 MORE DRIVERS
GRANTED AWARDS
FOR USING CARE

The 10 most careful drivers observed in Atlanta Thursday by a staff member of The Constitution will receive guest tickets to Loew's Grand theater through the mail today and the added recognition of being placed on the Careful Drivers' Honor Roll sponsored by the newspaper and theater management.

Again today a representative of the paper will observe traffic from a vantage point and make notes of motor car operation. Identities of owners of the cars will be checked and guest tickets will be mailed.

Those placed on the honor roll Thursday are W. F. Wilson, 550 Bankhead avenue; F. M. Cassey, 682 Maryland street; Mrs. Clara Moore, 1119 St. Augustine place; Frank G. Lake, 110 Haynes street; Mrs. F. S. Ellis, 74 Montclair drive; E. O. Henderson, 2060 Peachtree street; L. M. Conble, 91 Sixteenth street; Mrs. Ima F. Haas, 1075 Lullwater road; Daisy Jurkett, 124 Fourteenth street; Estelle Freeman, 921 Virginia avenue.

AIR EXPRESS BUSINESS IS REPORTED GROWING

Rapid growth of the express business in air transportation was described Thursday by Rogers A. Combs Jr., air express traffic manager of the American Airways, who is visiting Atlanta to confer with Willis Harland, district traffic manager, and B. B. Johnston, city traffic manager. He said the lines carried more pounds of express during July and August this year than during the entire first six months of 1932.

Mr. Combs said American Airways carried 25,596 pounds of air express in August and 22,953 pounds in July, a total of 48,549 pounds against 40,219 pounds carried during the first half of 1932. Describing new equipment, Mr. Combs said several routes of American Airways will have new planes express and mail at a speed of 215 miles an hour, assuring deliveries between cities 1,000 miles apart in from five to six hours.

Jurist Scorns Cop as Art Critic In Dispute Over Nude Painting

CHICAGO, Sept. 14.—(UP)—Judge Joseph David, of "pants on a horse" fame, ruled today that pictures of nude women can be displayed at the world's fair under certain provisions.

"Let true love of art increase. How can a policeman act as an art critic?" declared Judge David in ruling that Miss Cati Mount, woman artist, can continue exhibiting her painting, "Olympic."

Miss Mount, who both poses for and paints pictures of nude women, had asked Judge David for an injunction to prevent Policeman Joseph Morarity from closing her exhibition at the Century of Progress Exposition.

Morarity, who is the police department's censor of world fair art, had threatened to close the show because he said the picture of "Olympia" was indecent. He contended that the nude woman in the portrait should be portrayed as wearing "at least some flower petals."

By coincidence, the case came up before the same judge who recently ruled that Sally Rand could continue her fan dance at the fair grounds. It was in the Rand trial that David made his now famous remark to the effect that "some people would want to put pants on a horse."

At that time, David also declared that "nobody but boobies will pay to see a nude woman dance and that if the boobies want to pay for that kind of amusement it's their own business, and nobody else's."

"There is too much prudery around here," said David.

"There is nothing indecent about the human body. There is evil only to those who have evil thoughts."

"Why, I remember nude paintings exhibited at the 1893 World's Fair. The half-naked ladies who have been on display on Chicago stages for 25 years are really in many cases more indecent than fully unclothed models sensibly presented."

Judge David did not say whether he personally had seen Miss Mount's "Olympia" painting, which shows a nude woman lying on her back and turned slightly toward the artist.

The provision, which David included in his approval of art shows was that in all reproductions of Manet's "Olympia" the model's hands must be placed as in the original painting.

Radio Officer Killed

Floyd A. Hill, radio policeman, who was fatally injured in a crash of two police radio cruisers early Thursday morning.

Chambers Says Cuts Saved Chicago Schools

Comparing a program of economy which he said was introduced in the school system of Chicago with "recommendations in Atlanta school survey," W. Evans Chambers pointed out "similar economies advocated in our school survey" in a letter received by Mayor James L. Key Thursday.

Mr. Chambers, who is auditor of special surveys, said the Chicago program cut millions from school expense.

Mr. Chambers added that the Chicago program did not reduce any of the essential services received by the children in Chicago. In listing economies adopted in Chicago Mr. Chambers said kindergartens were reduced 50 per cent, deans in senior and junior high schools abolished, physical education teachers in high schools cut 50 per cent and athletic coaches abolished. The economy program also abolished professional services and junior high schools.

Commenting on a copy of a letter from Jesse Gray, president of the National Education Association, to officers and members of the group, Mr. Chambers said "intimidations of the association seemed to have been more successful in Atlanta with the result that no reduction of school non-essentials was made here."

RADIO POLICEMAN KILLED IN WRECK

Two Cruisers Crash Answering Call to Grocery; Three Officers Hurt.

A call to duty brought death Thursday to Cadet Patrolman Floyd A. Hill and injuries to three other officers as two police radio cars collided while answering a burglary alarm at 232 Woodward avenue shortly after 3 o'clock Thursday morning.

Those injured were E. H. Johnson, Hill's partner, and J. W. Masburn Jr. and C. R. Henslee, occupants of the other machine. They were treated at Grady hospital.

Hill, youngest member of a family of policemen, was rushed to Grady hospital by Lieutenant J. T. Lassiter, who also answered the alarm. The cadet died at 1:30 o'clock Thursday afternoon of a fractured skull.

The cruisers, driven by Hill and Masburn, were directed by radio to go to a grocery store at 232 Woodward avenue where a burglar was reported to be in the building. At Hill and Fair streets the two machines collided and Hill's machine turned over several times. Hill was thrown out on the pavement. His partner, Johnson, was only slightly hurt. Both cars were practically demolished.

Hill recently joined the police force as a cadet officer. He was the son of C. P. Hill Sr., who retired from the department after 30 years of service, and was a brother of Policeman C. P. Hill Jr. He was 26 years of age and resided at 551 Windsor street, S. W.

Surviving are his 19-year-old wife and a 7-month-old son, Floyd Hill Jr., who were at his bedside at the hospital when death came.

Funeral services will be conducted by Dr. W. H. Major at 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon at the Capitol Avenue Baptist church. Burial will be in West View cemetery.

Witnesses with members of the police department acting as an honorary escort. The J. Austin Dillon Company is in charge.

Rare Disease Proves Fatal to Miss Knott

Miss Sarah Knott, a native of Apalachee, near Madison, Ga., who was a popular Emory University hospital graduate nurse, died in that institution at 7:30 o'clock Thursday night. Attending physicians said she was a victim of agranulocytosis, a rare blood disease of which there are only about 300 recorded cases.

The chief characteristic of the blood infection is that the white corpuscles disappear from the blood. It is the white corpuscles that combat impurities in the blood stream and as they disappear the body temperature rises to do the work normally done by the white corpuscles. Miss Knott had a temperature of 106 degrees for two days, notwithstanding two blood transfusions given her in an effort to save her life; and a few moments before her death the body temperature registered 108 degrees, a fever too intense for the body to withstand. She was sick less than a week.

A graduate of the Emory University hospital nurses' training school in the class of 1930, Miss Knott was a popular figure in the hospital. She resided at 1212 Clifton road, N. E.

Services for Miss Knott will be held at 10 o'clock this morning in the Theology building chapel on the Emory campus. Dr. Wallace Rogers, pastor of the Glenn Memorial Methodist Episcopal Church, South, will conduct the service. Immediately afterward H. M. Patterson & Son will take the body of Miss Knott to Apalachee, where services will be held at 5 o'clock, eastern time, at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Knott. Interment will be in the Apalachee cemetery.

In addition to her parents, Miss Knott is survived by a sister, Mrs. H. H. Shockley, of Monroe, Ga.

SCOTT ALLEN'S HORSE SHOT AFTER ACCIDENT

A fine-blooded horse owned by Scott W. Allen, president of the Southern Grocery stores, and used as a saddle horse by his 15-year-old son, Calvin, was shot Thursday night after its leg had been broken by an automobile Thursday afternoon.

The horse, named Lightning, was injured from its young master's home at 1805 Ponce de Leon avenue during the afternoon and was struck at St. Augustine place and Highland avenue by a car driven by Adam Transou, of 986 Greenwood avenue. Lightning's leg was so badly broken humane society officers ordered him killed. Lightning had been young Calvin's favorite horse for the last year or so and the two were to be seen constantly on Atlanta bridge paths.

GLASS STILL FAVORS BRANCH BANKING PLAN

QUEBEC, Sept. 14.—(P)—Back from a holiday in Europe, Senator Charles Carter Glass today affirmed his conviction of the wisdom of the United States, from the standpoint of banking, "lies in a state-wide system of branch banking, with proper regard for the federal reserve act."

The Virginia senator landed here from the liner Empress of Britain.

OPERA SINGER GRANTED DIVORCE FROM WIFE

CARSON CITY, Nev., Sept. 14.—(UP)—George Richard Bunn, opera singer, obtained a divorce here today from Pauline Corley Bunn, of Boston, on the statutory charge of "five years' separation." In a property settlement Bunn agreed to pay his wife $4,800 a year. They were married October 17, 1917, and have no children.

Different makes of anti-freezes and their actions in cooling systems will also be discussed. The discussion will be illustrated with a sound movie.

Corn-Husking Classic Scheduled November 9

LINCOLN, Neb., Sept. 14.—(P)—America's tenth annual battle of the bangboards will be held November 9 this year on a Cuming county (Nebraska) farm, where corn-husking champions from nine mid-western states will seek the national crown.

States besides Nebraska in the contest are Iowa, South Dakota, Minnesota, Missouri, Kansas, Illinois, Indiana and Ohio.

Several excellent fields have been offered as contest grounds by farmers in Cuming county.

In Georgia's Fields and Streams

By H. A. CARTER

BRUNSWICK, Ga., Sept. 14.—Between the railroad and Oglethorpe bay, to the north of the station, there is a tract that serves as a natural and much glorified precipitation gauge. It is a fresh-water marsh, some feet higher than the immediately adjacent marshes. I don't know whether or not this place has a name or not, but I have given it one of my own—Gastrophysne marsh. If you don't like that one, say it in English—Narrow-mouthed Toad marsh.

Here I heard the short, musical, electric-spark calls of the diminutive narrow-mouthed toad (Gastrophysne carolinense) and set out to get some specimens.

Yes, I set out for some specimens, but after four hours of wading (only ankle deep), peering over the beam of a flashlight and slipping mosquitoes until my face was smeared with my blood kindly drawn by them, I retired from the field with a single specimen and half a quart of tadpoles.

The tadpoles took just about two seconds to collect, leaving 14,308 seconds of delightful agony of the "so near and yet so far" variety. Not that the frogs were scarce. They were abundant. But the color of frog and mud—no, that's not fair because it wasn't muddy, but sandy—blended beautifully. Furthermore, the frogs measure an inch and one-eighth in body length.

The proverbial needle-in-a-haystack has lost all its significance as a simile. I shall henceforth think of "Gastrophysne in a marsh" when I lose my collar buttons.

Gastrophysne tadpoles were behaving in a most extraordinary fashion. In shallow places they congregated in hundreds, swimming frenziedly in every direction leading toward the center of the mass. If you will take a bunch of grapes by the stem and hold it under water so that it just breaks the surface and then twirl it rapidly, you will have an idea why this fact attracted my attention.

Some of these tadpole masses covered a square foot of water. Do you see how I got my half a quart of tadpoles in two seconds?

Dr. Wright has given us an excellent account of the narrow-mouthed toad in his "Frogs of the Okefenokee Swamp, Georgia," which was reviewed in this column some time ago.

All that I want is to get specimens from as many localities as possible. (Otherwise I don't believe I would have suffered the torture of losing

C. & E. I. Railroad In Hands of Trustee

CHICAGO, Sept. 14.—(P)—The Chicago & Eastern Illinois railway went under the management of a trustee in bankruptcy today, following a demand of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation.

The R. F. C. had demanded reorganization and divorce of the management from the influence of the Van Sweringen interests.

The government corporation also demanded that the trustee inquire thoroughly into numerous contracts entered into by the road with other Van Sweringen railroads.

The R. F. C. said such investigation was essential to assuring stockholders a fair deal in reorganization of the road. Federal Judge John P. Barnes named Judge Charles M. Thomson, formerly of the superior and appellate courts of Cook county, as trustee.

The corporation petitioned for the trusteeship as holder of $8,000,000 in prior lien bonds taken as security for a loan and since defaulted.

These specimens and getting only one in a mosquito infested marsh. After all, only a herpetologist would voluntarily go into such a place anyway.

"I need never have had these wrinkles and gray hairs if I had only known sooner about

DR. M. W. LOCKE SHOES"

writes an enthusiastic customer from St. Augustine, Florida. "I had not been able to walk without pain for years and spent half the time in bedroom slippers," continues the letter. "I have had my Dr. Locke shoes just one month and I put them on in the morning and wear them until I go to bed. Some may think $10.50 a big price to pay for shoes, but when you consider that it buys health and comfort, it is really a very small amount."★

$10.50

That's just a sample of the scores of letters that come rolling in to the Dr. Locke shoe department from all over Georgia and the Southeast. We could talk for hours about the interesting incidents that happen every day—for instance... the man who rode all night on the bus from Alabama to get his Dr. Locke shoes... and the woman who was practically carried in by her son and daughter and walked all over the floor unassisted as soon as she got on Dr. Locke shoes. Hard to believe? We were skeptical, too, until we went down and saw with our own eyes the marvelous things that are happening in this department.

BOSTON, MASSACHUSETTS

'Christian Index' Centenary Observed at Washington, Ga.

WASHINGTON, Ga., Sept. 14.—In the first incorporated town in the United States named "The Father of His Country," where the first issue of the Christian Index was off the press on September 14, 1833, the centennial of the religious paper was observed today.

Benjamin H. Hardy, Barnesville, chairman of the index board, called delegates to order in the auditorium of the church which was constituted by Jesse Mercer in 1827.

Colorful in their contrast were the welcome address by W. T. Evans, pastor of Mercer's Washington church, and the centennial oration by Dr. Rufus W. Weaver.

Pastor Evans, the convention's host, after perfecting greetings and reference to local historic-religious lore declared:

"If it be true that the Baptists and the boll weevils are taking the state, Jesse Mercer will yet rule Georgia, provided the Baptists will consider the boll weevil. To such a ruler we pay homage, for it was he who, in 1827, led in the founding of this church, and became its first pastor."

In response Dr. J. C. Wilkinson, pastor of First Baptist church, Athens, said: "We come not today to a strange place, but to a spiritual shrine, where we may be as close to Mercer as this church which has given such abundant reasons why we are welcomed."

Distinguished Baptists, mainly preachers, brought greetings from the four quarters of Georgia. Dr. J. Ellis Sammons, Macon, president of the Georgia Baptist convention, brought greetings from more than 400,000 followers of the Baptist faith. James

W. Merritt, Barnesville, former index manager, now secretary-treasurer of the executive committee, declared that "Georgia Baptists held high and undimmed the torch from the past, as it rushed into the second century of religious journalism."

Not on the program until the afternoon session, Dr. O. P. Gilbert, present index editor and manager, could not escape the roll call of notables, but promptly prevented a notable program and ducked an extra speech by rising to recognize distinguished visitors from Savannah, Macon, Augusta, Atlanta and others.

Introduction of the centennial orator was by Dr. Gilbert.

Dr. Rufus Weaver, of Washington, D. C., former president of Mercer University, was the principal speaker.

"I make bold to say," said Dr. Weaver in his prepared address, "that no journal published in the western hemisphere can boast of a succession of editors who in intellectual ability, tireless energy, range of interests, concentration to the cause of their Master, richness in Christian virtue and devotion to Christ surpass the men who during the past 100 years have sat in the editorial chair of the Christian Index."

History of the paper from the time of its founding in 1833 until now, and a list of editors of the paper were presented in Dr. Weaver's address. Of the group of 24 editors named, only four are living: J. J. Van Ness, B. J. W. Graham, Louis D. Newton and O. P. Gilbert. Other former editors were listed as Jesse Mercer, William H. Stokes, Joseph S. Baker, John F. Darg, T. D. Martin, Sylvanus Larum, E. W. Warren, Joseph Walker, H. H. Tucker, David Shaver, David E. Butler, C. A. Nunnally, M. B. Wharton, I. R. Brannan, J. C. McMichael, T. P. Bell, James D. Knowles, Baron Stow and W. T. Brantly Sr. The last three men were editors of the Columbian Star, from which sprang the first Christian Index.

The first editorial of the Star, quoted by Dr. Weaver, said: "One main design is to render the paper an authentic repository of missionary and other religious intelligence. . . . While we hope to render our paper worthy of the patronage of Christians generally, it is principally to our brethren of the Baptist communion we look for efficient co-operation and support."

For a time, said Dr. Brantly, a perusal of the files, he said, leads to the impression that the Columbian Star and the Christian Index, a southern Baptist paper published in a northern city for it contained more articles from the southern states than it did from the north.

In the issue of June 29, 1833, Dr. Brantly announced the sale of the paper to Jesse Mercer and its removal to Washington, Ga., and the first issue appeared in the Georgia city on September 14, 1833.

Before luncheon telegrams were read from Dr. J. J. Van Ness, Nashville; Dr. B. J. W. Graham and Louis D. Newton, both of Atlanta, three former editors of the 100-year-old religious organ, telling of their inability to be present. The president of the Southern Baptist convention and others wired greetings.

The enforced absence of Dr. Ness and Dr. Graham almost wrecked the first half of the afternoon program, which was to include addresses from each. Dr. Gilbert filled the breach until the hour for the program, entitled "A Century of Fulfillment," written by Miss Lillian Lee, and presented by local talent under the direction of Mrs. Henry C. Standard.

NAVAL STORES MEN ACCEPT MARKET PACT

Agreement Proposed by Secretary of Agriculture Approved at Valdosta.

VALDOSTA, Ga., Sept. 14.—(AP)—A proposed marketing agreement by the secretary of agriculture was approved here today by 75 per cent of naval stores men from six southern states.

The agreement is for the purpose of controlling production and regulating sales of the turpentine industry. No organization was formed as producers are awaiting action by the department of agriculture.

The agreement now goes to the department of agriculture after which a plan of operation will be formulated. About 500 operators were present, Alabama, Florida, Georgia, Mississippi, North Carolina and South Carolina being represented.

The agreement is for the purpose of controlling production and regulating sales. Under it surplus would be made of the total amount of naval stores on hand in this and foreign countries, and an estimated demand would then be worked out. Sales would be prorated among the operators based on this estimate.

L. M. Autrey, an extensive operator in Georgia, told the assembled operators that they should sign up the agreement. "If it works we will have come out of the hole and if it does not work we will be none the worse off," he said.

Harley Langsner, of Valdosta, presided at the meeting.

Julian Langsner, co-operative marketing expert of Orlando, urged the operators to sign up and he explained the agreement.

ELBERTON-EASTERN ASKS ABANDONMENT

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14.—(AP)—Receivers of the Elberton & Eastern railroad today asked the interstate commerce commission for authority to abandon the entire line, running 35 miles from Elberton to Washington, Georgia.

In their application the receivers said the company was wholly insolvent and had failed to earn any money for several years prior to entering the receivership.

The abandonment is sought, the receivers said, with a view of a foreclosure sale free from any obligation under the part of the purchaser to operate the road.

Depletion of timber supplies, and competition from buses, trucks and automobiles was said to have led to the road's troubles.

ROAD ASKS NOTE ISSUE TO PAY YEAR'S DEFICIT

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14.—(AP)—The Sylvania Railway Company, operating about 14 1/2 miles of single track from Sylvania to Rockyford, Ga., today sought permission of the interstate commerce commission to issue $12,000 worth of notes to pay off its deficit for the past year.

The company is controlled by the Central of Georgia Railway Company, and has been operating at a loss since 1925, according to information on file here.

Dan Magill Will Publish Weekly, 'The Georgia Democrat,' at Athens

ATHENS, Ga., Sept. 14.—Dan Magill, for many years connected with the Athens Banner-Herald and for the last five years its managing editor, announces that at an early date he will begin publication of a weekly newspaper in Athens to be known as "The Georgia Democrat."

Mr. Magill is recognized in Georgia newspaper circles as a vigorous writer and an experienced news gatherer. He entered newspaper work in 1919, shortly after returning from France, where he was a member of the A. E. F. His first newspaper work was with the Athens Herald, becoming its managing editor in 1926. Later on after a few months with the Atlanta Journal, Magill returned to Athens and became city editor of the Athens Daily News, joining the Banner-Herald staff about a year after the consolidation of the Athens Banner and Athens Herald, owned by the late Bowdrie Phinix.

Magill is an alumnus of Mercer and the University of Georgia, and a former associate editor of the Georgia Alumni Record. He is a son of J. T. Magill, of Hartwell, at one time co-publisher of the Hartwell Sun with the late John H. Magill, of Atlanta.

For Roosevelt Ideas.

Commenting on the policies of the Georgia Democrat, Magill said: "The Democrat will, of course, interest itself particularly in assembling and printing the news of the Athens territory, but we expect to carry news and editorials relating to the social, economic and political life of the entire state. For instance, there are certain ideas, or tendencies, manifesting themselves in Georgia politics right now to which we are opposed, and which we expect to fight."

"The Democrat will heartily pump for the Roosevelt economic and political ideas, believing that the former which government takes does not change it when they feel like it. Government must be judged by the results. It's mighty fine to praise Jeffersonianism, states' rights, etc., but you can't eat those things."

"No sane person would advocate making one horse pull all the load. We must diversify our taxes so that they won't hit any person, or group, more than another. But let's not fall for this hullyho about cutting taxes to the bone, thus endangering our public services, especially at a time when we are prosperous, as we hope to be in a few months. I have observed that the fellow who yells the loudest about high taxes usually hasn't a dime. In many instances the fellow who has to pay the most taxes is more cheerful about it than the fellow who pays $1 poll tax. And yet the $1 fellow may have a house full of children who are being sent to school with public funds raised by taxation."

Views on Taxes.

"Right now in Georgia there is a great deal of clamor against 'high taxes,' despite the fact that taxes have been reduced repeatedly in the depression, and tax digests have shrunk, thus further cutting our public revenues. What is going to happen to our schools, our departments of health, and other such agencies if revenues continue to shrink? Salaries of public employees will be further reduced in the face of rising costs for food, clothing and rent. Do we want to make a pauper class out of our public employees? The 'big boys' on the public pay rolls will be provided for, of course. Their salaries will be 'ranged.' I am thinking of the county school teacher without political power, and of the city employee who has a family to keep on a miserable salary. Are we going to force down their pay still further, while the pay of everyone else is presumably going up, thus reducing their efficiency and loyalty to the public service?"

SAVANNAH IS WARNED OF IMPENDING STORM

SAVANNAH, Ga., Sept. 14.—(AP)—Winds of hurricane force 500 miles off the coast are headed in the general direction of Savannah and Charleston, the local weather bureau reports and should reach the coast tomorrow night or early Saturday.

The weather bureau has advised those living at Savannah Beach, seaside resort of Savannah, to come to the city tomorrow to escape the blow.

The course of the storm may shift in the meanwhile, but at present Savannah is in the path of the disturbance, which is moving west by northwest at the rate of 12 miles per hour.

Dalton Church Sued For Paving Payments

DALTON, Ga., Sept. 14.—A suit against the Hamilton Street Methodist church for its paving assessments has been filed by the city of Dalton. It was learned at the regular meeting of city council Monday night.

According to G. W. Keister, city clerk, the church has refused to pay even the first installment on its paving assessment, although every other church in the city has met their installments.

"We are not selling the church for public improvements as accused," stated Mayor McAfee. "We have given this church every opportunity to make some of their payments, but they have refused to pay even one. If we do not get the money, the city will have to shoulder the burden. This means that the members of other churches which have paid their assessments will have to pay for the Hamilton Street church's assessments. This would not be right. The bonds are in the hands of innocent purchasers, who would have to suffer if the bids are defaulted. This we could not allow."

The city committee from the church asked council for further time. They were given two weeks to make their first payment before levy is made.

TAX RATE AT ALBANY INCREASED 1-2 MILLS

ALBANY, Ga., Sept. 14.—A mill-and-a-half hike in the city tax rate for 1933—bringing the total millage to 14—was approved by city commissioners Tuesday night when the municipal governing body met in tax-fixing session. The new rate replaces a 12 1/2-mill levy which prevailed in 1932.

The mill-and-a-half increase is made in the sinking fund levy, a five-mill levy in 1932 providing inadequate revenue for the retirement of public indebtedness.

In addition to these bonds, the city is retiring $22,000 worth of bonds on even years and $17,000 on odd years.

Although the rate for 1933 has been raised slightly, taxpayers will be called on to pay a smaller tax bill than they did last year, the tax budget estimated at $128,000 in 1932, as compared to $128,000 in 1933.

As has been the case for the last several years, no levy was made for general purposes, the operating cost of the city being paid from revenue derived from the sale of public utilities.

It was estimated last night that expenditures of the city of Albany for 1932 were $128,000, with utilities bringing in a revenue of $286,052.73. This will create an approximate deficit of $5,000, which will be taken out of the city's surplus.

The tax budget estimates a return of $66,272 from the school levy. The 1932 levy resulted in taxes of $74,981. The decline is made by a decrease in the valuation of city property. While a decline in the sinking fund, the contrary is true in the sinking fund total. Money put into the sinking fund in 1932 was $51,320, but will reach $57,436 this year.

Despite the increase voted last evening, the city tax rate is still five and a half mills over the 1929 rate of 10 1/2 mills, or $19.50 on $1,000. In 1930 the rate was reduced to 17 mills, was scaled down to 14 mills in 1931, and reached the low level of 12 1/2 mills in 1932.

16 SHOT IN MINE RIOT;
U. S. PROBE IS ORDEREDRoosevelt Brings Pressure
To Bear To Break Coal
Code Deadlock.

Removal of this obstacle from the path of the recovery program was plotted as Chairman Jones, of the Reconstruction Corporation, made public a broad plan for helping industries which are attempting to carry on under the NRA with federal loans through banks and trust and mortgage companies.

The conference called by the chief executive to end the impasse in the coal industry was brief. Mr. Roosevelt outlined to the assembled spokesmen of operators and miners the need for speed to prevent more serious trouble in the coal regions where shootings broke out today. He told them a code could be delayed no longer.

A brief period for further negotiations was asked and granted, with the operators soon back at work, intending to labor through the night. "Without exception," President Roosevelt said, "the operators present representing the major coal producing areas and the representatives of the United Mine Workers have given me the assurance that the code in its present form is for the larger part acceptable and that in all human probability this code can be negotiated to a conclusion within the next 24 hours in other words by Friday night."

By that time, also, Mr. Roosevelt said the conference expected to complete union contracts between the mine owners and the United Mine Workers of America.

The Reconstruction Corporation chairman said the new credit to stimulate the recovery program would be available through loans to the banks and trust and mortgage companies at 3 per cent interest, the money to be released to business houses.

15 MINERS AND SHERIFF

WOUNDED IN RIOTING
UNIONTOWN, Pa., Sept. 14.—(AP)—Fifteen striking miners and a deputy sheriff were wounded by gunfire and more than a score were beaten today as violence flared for the second time within a month in the southwestern Pennsylvania soft coal fields.

The outbreak signaled the official start of a "holiday" voted by leaders of more than 30,000 miners to protest against delay in completion of the NRA coal code, and to demand recognition of the United Mine Workers of America by the operators.

Rioting broke out at three mines of the H. C. Frick Company, United States Steel subsidiary and leading producers in the field. Eight of its mines are closed tonight and eight are reported operating.

At One Mine.

All the shooting was at the Gates mine, about 15 miles west of Uniontown. Pickets stood in a line en route to work. Company officials said only pumpan, necessary to keep the mines from flooding, were reporting for duty.

Deputy sheriffs, in employ of the company, intervened. Tear gas bombs, sticks and stones flew, then came volley after volley of shots. Deputy Mike Wright was shot in the left arm and it was amputated in a hospital.

The others wounded are miners. They are:

Louis Kromer, strike leader; Steve Krosky, Steve Ondosh, George Ely, Anton Maura, Walter Ordorsky, Paul Popson, Mason Roberts, George Broska, Joe Goletz, Mike Budman, James Shannon, George Illeg, Vincent Samsa and Joseph Kromer.

Seriously injured by stones, clubs or knives are Mike Savage, 32; Victor Joselin, 45; John Garrow, 40; and John Cochran, 35.

Police in Ignorance.

State police and Sheriff Harry E. Hackney said they were unaware of the disorders until half an hour afterwards.

The situation remained comparatively quiet tonight with picket lines being formed at several of the eight Frick mines which operated today and several other mines which remained open. However, the situation was tense and officials were on the alert.

Information that President Roosevelt is demanding immediate adoption of a code in Washington, left a question as to whether the situation would be relieved greatly, because the Frick company has taken no part in the code preparation, and has given no intimation that it intends to change its labor policy—which is strongly anti-union.

Steel Consumed.

The company has maintained that its product is not in the competitive field, but is all used by United States Steel mills and is not bound by a code that has to do with domestic coal producers.

The Gates mine where the shooting occurred this morning is situated in a picturesque spot on a bend of the Monongahela river. It can be reached by only one narrow, unpaved road. The mine entrance is in a narrow valley, with a railroad running between it and the greater portion of the company town.

The strikers congregated along the tracks. They opened their lines with jeers to let the mine bosses enter, but closed them to bar several others who followed. A company official said that six men were killed and several who tried to get into the mine.

The milling crowd closed about this group. Company deputies pushed their way in. One showed Louis Kromer, a strike leader, and fists began to fly, then stones, knives and tear gas bombs.

"Let 'Em Have It."

Three of the pickets, Thomas Vidovich, John Brunisk and Ed Rusky, claimed they heard Mike Donovan, mine superintendent, shout:

"Let 'em have it!"

Then guns began blazing all around. Vidovich said the deputy ran down the railroad tracks and kept firing into us. One of our men fell wounded on the track. A freight was coming and we barely got him off in time because they kept throwing tear gas at us.

The Frick company indicated it will keep open the eight mines operated today, if the workers report. Whether the strikers will have sufficient force to successfully picket these mines probably will be decided tomorrow morning between 4 and 6 o'clock, when the day crews report.

COAL MINE CRISIS SENDS

JOHNSON BACK TO CAPITAL
NEW YORK, Sept. 14.—(AP)—The coal mining situation in Pennsylvania sent Hugh S. Johnson, the recovery administrator, hastening back to Washington today with the statement that strikes are wasteful.

"Under the machinery set up in the capital, labor can lay its troubles before the board and adjustments will be made that will obtain for labor by peaceful means all that it can get through strikes," Johnson said.

"If unionization is the motive behind the strikes, it appears that an unfair advantage is being taken of the NRA. The labor board gives the working men a right to select his own organization as well as the employer the right to organize."

Johnson and three aids who had come here for yesterday's gigantic NRA parade, left for the capital by train after his pilot, Lieutenant "Tex" McClellan, pronounced the weather unfit for flying.

The hard-working administrator argued with the aviator, but the latter refused to take up the plane.

from the 13th ward, as it provides that a person must live in the ward he represents for at least two years prior to his election. Green cannot qualify as he has lived there only 23 months.

Hartsfield Hails Decision.
Representative William B. Hartsfield, of Fulton county, author of the legislative act, hailed the supreme court decision as a victory for clean elections.

"Unless the present committee holds an election Wednesday to select a new committee, the present committee will die and there will be no committee in Atlanta," Hartsfield said. "However, any group of citizens may meet to form a new committee provided such committee complies with the act."

"The act virtually makes the Neill primary law, governing state elections, applicable to Atlanta. Its dealings with the executive committee are minor considerations since the bill protects citizens as well as candidates. It provides for punishment of guilty for fraud or corruption. Ballots must be preserved and be available for grand jury scrutiny just as state election ballots are at the present time. If one lives and properties are subject to the courts, is there any reason why our primaries in Atlanta, which are tantamount to election of candidates, should not be clothed with the same protection?"

"Now that the law has been upheld, council should pass an ordinance requiring the executive committee to comply strictly with it."

DICTATORSHIP PLAN
MAPPED FOR CUBA

administration set forth its plan of operations. The government told Cuban exiles that it will make individual rights secondary to what it considers the nation's good, phrasing the fifth point of the government plan.

"Since the provisional government truly would be at fault if it abandoned the guarantees that (possession of) the power carries with it to dangerous aspirations, temporarily it will have to make individual rights secondary to a regime of government fiscalization."

The first point of the program embodied a pledge to carry out to the fullest the regime's announced policy of intense nationalism.

"The provisional government will maintain above all else absolute independence and national sovereignty, the principle of free determination of the people in its interior conflicts and the principle of juridical equality of states," the government declared.

Other Points Outlined.

Other points in the program bound the regime to:

1. Seek international harmony and the most perfect adjustment of political and economic interests of Cuba to the reciprocal interests of other countries; 2. Call elections as soon as possible for the constitutional convention which will have power to supervise the procedure of the provisional government, and make preparations for the choice of its successor.

3. Organize courts to try all persons accused of crimes or offenses under the "draconian regime" of President Gerardo Machado.

4. Protect property against illegal expropriation.

Meantime, the heavily armed officers at the Hotel Nacional, their plans for defense worked out to the last detail during their week in the hotel, assumed their posts as the activity of soldiers outside indicated some sort of crisis.

All Autos Halted.

There was no need for a street attack, however, and several officers, strolled down to watch soldiers stopping all passing automobiles, ordering their occupants out and searching them.

The act of the newly reinforced guard at the hotel coincided with an outbreak of rumors that the Grau San Martin government would face armed resistance within 24 hours.

Teodoro Villa Sotolongo, 34, an inspector for the stevedores' syndicate, was shot and killed by a group of unidentified men as he stood on a street corner. The bullets were fired from a passing automobile.

General Armando Montes, former chief of staff under President de Cespedes, was arrested near the National hotel on suspicion of carrying arms to officers. He was later released on orders of the new secretary of war, Julio Aguirre.

Strike Troubles Grow.

Reports from over the island indicated the labor situation was becoming more serious hourly.

The American consul at Santiago went to Cristo in Oriente province, where 12 American officials at the Cristo manganese mines were virtual prisoners of their striking employees.

Other residents of that province concentrated at American colonies near Santiago.

Reports reaching here said that officials were virtually besieged in their homes at several other sugar mills throughout the island by strikers.

Food Supply Low.

Warehousesmen on strike in the capital and authoritative sources said there was danger the city's food supplies would run short unless a settlement soon was reached.

Workers at Santiago, waving red flags, forced the mayor and governor to resign. The situation there was described as "disturbed." An army sergeant, dispatched from that city hall, had taken over the city hall.

The cabinet continued in session throughout the afternoon. It was understood by political observers that a new plan of government, or constitution, might be announced within the next few hours.

This plan would remain in force, it was said, until a constitutional convention could be called to adopt certain constitutional reforms.

As evidence that Grau San Martin might issue a manifesto calling for extensive power political circles pointed to the fact that his cabinet is comprised of only those who did not participate in mediation efforts initiated prior to the ousting of Gerardo Machado as president. In addition, it was pointed out that the regime is backed strongly by student factions and has embarked upon a strong nationalistic course.

Threat to Intervention.

The student directory issued a manifesto which embodied a threat to American intervention. It read: "Before the reactionary policy which seeks the support of the United States, ambassador and the landing of United States marines can triumph, it is necessary to first wipe out the entire student body."

Posters again were distributed attacking "Yankee imperialism" and denouncing American policies in regard to Cuba.

The student directory continued drilling its so-called "Caribbean army" in the military fashion. It was in line with the directors' announced policy of protecting the students and their ideals.

The movement spread today to Santiago, where students took over the normal school and converted it into a military barracks.

Defends Strikes.

Sergio Carbo, member of the executive committee which governed the country during the interval between the overthrow of Carlos Manuel de Cespedes as provisional president and the setting up of the Grau San Martin regime, said at the palace that certain strikes were legitimate disagreements between the workers and their employers, but that others were directed against the government.

over American property which was threatened by strikers.

Palace sources tended to confirm the belief that the president would announce his intention to rule Cuba strongly. A virtual dictatorship whose laws would be executive decrees and whose demands for public order would be backed by the continuance of martial law, freely was predicted.

While a number of rumors circulated, including one that dissension was rife in the army ranks, police reserves were held in readiness armed with rifles. There was no official explanation of this move.

Reports that armed forces had rebelled at Matanzas and in parts of Santa Clara province were said to have been received by a spokesman for the embattled officers. There was no immediate confirmation.

Aldermen of N. Y. City
Vote Emergency Tax

NEW YORK, Sept. 14.—(AP)—The board of aldermen today swiftly approved the administration's $24,000,000 emergency tax program—a plan which has brought threats of removal of the security markets from New York.

The four new measures, imposing a 4-cent stock transfer tax, a 5 per cent income tax on brokerage houses, a 5 per cent tax on utilities and a one-quarter of 1 per cent tax on assets of savings banks, life and fire insurance companies, are expected to be signed by Mayor John P. O'Brien.

Approval of the program, already voted by the board of estimate, came after Samuel Untermyer, financial adviser to the city, had assailed stock brokers for threatening to avert payment of the tax by opening an exchange in a northern New Jersey city.

50 Per Cent Cut Seen
In Rail Passenger Rate

NEW YORK, Sept. 14.—(AP)—The Evening Post today said that the American traveling public, on and after November 1, may expect a reduction of nearly 50 per cent in railroad passenger fares as a result of efforts of western rail leaders for a blanket cut to that amount by carriers of the entire country.

The plan, which the western road had hoped to put into effect as far back as June 1, contemplates a cut in the basic passenger fare from 3.6 cents a mile to a straight 2-cent-a-mile rate for round-trip tickets and elimination of the Pullman surcharge.

A slightly higher rate may be decided upon for one-way tickets, but there is no assurance this will be done.

U. of Wisconsin Prexy
Fails Hotel Bandit

MILWAUKEE, Sept. 14.—(AP)—Quick thinking enabled Dr. Glenn Frank, president of the University of Wisconsin, to foil a holdup man who invaded his sixteenth floor hotel room here.

The robber, about 35 years old, covered Dr. Frank last night with a rusty revolver and ordered him to back against a wall. He demanded the keys to his victim's bag.

The educator stepped backwards and suddenly found himself in the bathroom. He slammed the door shut and bolted it. Going to the window, he called for help.

The robber escaped before the police arrived.

RESTORE PAY CUT,

Little, Harry M. Perkerson and Leo Suddeth, tax assessors.

A 10 per cent increase in salaries of non-school employees would amount to about $30,000 a month for the remainder of the year.

Pointing out that he believed now would be a good time for the city to step in and make a fine gesture of co-operation with the federal authorities in the drive for success of the NRA, the mayor suggested that a cut of the general 20 per cent reduction in salaries of employees, imposed almost uniformly on all employees of the government, to 10 per cent would increase buying power of employees. He said employees have carried on in the face of reduced personnel and reduced salaries in fine spirit.

The mayor warned that the city might not be able to maintain the salary increases next year, but that even temporary relief would do much to restore buying power and confidence.

He treated with the shortage of cash which may be anticipated, but added that even though collections failed to come in the city is living well within its anticipations and that at the present time cash receipts are greater than expected.

West said a survey shows the city is in better circumstances than was expected the first part of the year, and that he believed the restoration move would do much to stimulate business and build esprit de corps.

Woman Found Slain,
Posse Hunts Convict

HOMER, Ga., Sept. 14.—(AP)—The body of Miss Ida Whitfield, a resident of northeastern Banks county, was found in the woods near here early today after several hours' search which was started yesterday when she failed to return from a trip to a store.

Charley Hawkins, a motorcycle policeman at Lulu, near here, said he had been notified by Sheriff W. B. Wilkey that Miss Whitfield had been murdered, and that a negro trusty in a county convict camp was suspected.

Hawkins said a posse of citizens and the sheriff's forces were hunting for the negro, who did not return to camp last night. The body was found about 2 a. m. Hawkins said.

It must be the one best buy in town or it wouldn't stay

FIRST IN ATLANTA SALES

When a car steps into a wide-awake town like Atlanta, and keeps on leading in local sales month after month and year after year—you know the answer. It's not merely because that car is a home town product—built in Atlanta plants by Atlanta workmen. It must be because that car is a "better buy" than any other at or near its price. It must have smarter lines and a better body! It must be safer, more comfortable, more up-to-date! It must be more thoroughly tried, tested and proved! It must cost a whole lot less to run! Yes—to lead in a town like this—it must do all these things... and Chevrolet certainly does. By every standard, by every comparative test, the new Chevrolet Six stands out as the biggest package of value in all the low-price field!

It's the only low-priced car with a Fisher hardwood-and-steel body—safest in the world—the same type of staunch, rugged construction that nearly every expensive car uses. It's the only low-priced car with the most sensational motor car invention of 1933—Fisher No Draft, Cool Air Ventilation... (any car without this wonderful boon to cool, carefree travel is obsolete). It's the only low-priced car with an engine so thoroughly tested by so many millions of drivers that everyone knows it's right! It's the only low-priced car with a Starterator!

You can't keep the best car from leading in sales

During the first seven months of this year, Chevrolet topped all other cars by a comfortable margin in Atlanta. 1505 Chevrolets delivered at retail! Over 50% of sales of all low-priced cars.

During this same period, the car in second place sold only 704 cars.

And the car in third place sold only 638 cars. In other words, out of all cars sold in the low-price field, two out of every four were Chevrolet Sixes.*

*All figures based on the latest reports from R. L. Polk & Co.

Real Syncro-Mesh! Simplified Free Wheeling! Patented "cushion-balanced" power that kills annoying vibration! And scores of other important advantages and advancements! Chevrolet also costs so little to run and it stands up so well, that leading business corporations, metropolitan police departments, and the United States Government are buying Chevrolets in huge fleets.

More money for your old car. There's a Chevrolet dealer near you to serve you. He belongs to the organization doing the biggest retail automobile business in Atlanta. Naturally, he can give you a better allowance on your old car. Drive over and see! Listen to what an attractive figure he'll allow you on your old automobile. Then check over the surprisingly low prices on the best-selling Chevrolet Six. Find out how easy it will be to own one on the G. M. A. C. plan! And bear in mind, all the time, that you're buying a car you know is right! More people in Atlanta—more throughout the nation—buy Chevrolets than any other make of motor car!

FRIENDLY COUNSEL

BY CAROLINE CHATFIELD.

Problems of general interest submitted by readers will be discussed in this column. Correspondence invited. Your name held in confidence. Write Miss Chatfield, care The Atlanta Constitution.

DEAR MISS CHATFIELD:

We have a sister in our family who is married to a rich man and she likes to play the lady-bountiful to her poorer sisters and brothers. This would be very nice but for one thing: She expects us to kowtow to her and treat her entirely differently from the way we treat each other. As a matter of fact, in spite of all she does for us none of us loves her as much as we love each other and yet we have to pretend that we do. Not that we wouldn't gladly dispense with her gifts to be rid of this necessity. We would; but because she gets such a kick out of "handing out" to us she continues to do it and then grows because we are unappreciative of her generosity. We have had more than one family conference to discuss a policy of dealing with her but we never come to any conclusion. May be you have some ideas to give us.

THREE DISGRUNTED BROTHERS AND SISTERS.

ANSWER:

Two ideas that may contribute to your better understanding of the situation are these: First, the sister, though materially rich, feels herself unutterably poor in family affection. Having an abundance of one thing of which you have little, she naturally, though perhaps unconsciously, tries to use it as a medium of exchange between you—that thing is money. Now it so happens that money does buy nearly everything that the rich desire. When they spot a rare piece that they covet, but come their purses. It always shocks them a bit to discover that some things are not purchasable. After the shock comes irritation. But don't think they give up after the first failure. Oh no, they go on making bigger and bigger bids, being reasonably sure that the holder of the coveted prize will capitulate if only the price be big enough.

Now there is a fine line between humor and pathos. There is a huge pathos. There is a huge amount of humor in such a situation as this and a pitiable pathos. The sister is trying to buy your affection and, failing, she is both incensed and annoyed with herself and with you. Consequently she becomes more and more querulous and more and more generous. Can't you laugh at the position in which she places you and pity her for the position in which she finds herself?

She regards you as a close corporation into which she would buy her way at any cost. You absorb all her offerings, yet keep her shut out. She demands homage in lieu of love which she has just about despaired of getting. Therefore, if you love her, you nothing and pays her, in a measure, for her pains by soliciting her pride. CAROLINE CHATFIELD.

DEAR MISS CHATFIELD:

How can a boy tell for sure if his girl loves him?
H. M. L.

ANSWER:

When the girl herself is sure of her love for the boy it is easy enough for the boy "to tell for sure." No matter how much she is an actress, maybe, she cannot conceal the state of her feelings. The boy possesses her thoughts to such an extent that every time she opens her mouth she lets slip some remark that gives her away. Present or absent, he is partner in all she says and does.

She takes every hint he offers about her costume, her cosmetics, her coiffure and her conduct. If he expresses preference for a certain pink dress she wears it when she expects to see him. She buys and applies the particular shade and flavor of lipstick that he approves. If he likes short hair she keeps hers cut and if he admires long hair she lets hers grow. If he abhors cigarette she never smokes in his presence. If he has a fancy for games and sports she will learn an interest in them whether or not she actually feels the interest. She will break a date with anybody at any time to see him. She will confide in him about every thing and everybody in the whole range of her experience. She will walk a mile to smile at him and write him a letter every day if distance separates her from him. She is "Just a fool, in love."

CAROLINE CHATFIELD.

Jap Foreign Minister Will Seek U. S. Treaty

TOKYO, Sept. 14.—(AP)—Koki Hirota, Japan's new foreign minister, said in his first public pronouncement today that the outlook is hopeful for amity between Japan and her three great neighbors—the United States, Russia and China.

Japanese-American relations are increasingly friendly, the foreign minister asserted, and the fact that Manchukuo and Soviet Russia have avoided hostilities in the last two delicate years augurs hopefully for the future. Hirota succeeded Count Yasuoka Uchida, who designed. Described as a staunch nationalist closely connected with the army clique, he is expected by political observers to open the way for an uncompromising foreign policy and increased nationalism.

The newspaper Nishi said the foreign minister intended to seek a new treaty with the United States, either a pact of arbitration or of non-aggression.

ICKES APPROVES FUND FOR GRAND COULEDAM
WASHINGTON, Sept. 14.—(AP)—Secretary Ickes today announced the allotment of $1,000,000 to permit immediate construction work on the Columbia river in the northwest. This is in conjunction with a previous tentative allotment of $83,000,000 to an authority of the state of Washington.

Other allotments were $281,000 to dredge a six-foot channel and build retaining walls at Ocean City harbor and Sinepuxant bay, Maryland; $250,000 for the construction of a shipside terminal in market and dock at Jacksonville, Fla., and $100,000 to meet administrative expenses of the NRA.

$100,000 Estate.
DEBHAM, Mass., Sept. 14.—(AP)—An estate of $100,000 was left to Henry L. Johnson, of Elkins, W. Va., under the terms of the will of his father, Henry F. Johnson, of Brookline, a pioneer in the lively business, who died recently, filed in probate court today.

Advertisements for proof of claims against the parent bank are sufficient for branch banks, the Georgia supreme court ruled Thursday in supporting the state superintendent of banks for barring a claim for $3,449.20 against the Hawkinsville branch of the Georgia State Bank in Fulton County, which was filed by W. A. Mason.

Mason sued the state superintendent, seeking to force recognition of his claim of a $3,449.20 balance in the Hawkinsville branch after the claim was barred because it was filed too late. Mason said the superintendent should have advertised for claim proofs in Pulaski county as well as in Fulton county, but the high court held that advertising for the parent bank in the home county was sufficient.

Judy and Her Mother Serve Broiled Mayonnaise
BY FLORENCE La GANKE.

Judy was leaving for college. She could scarcely believe in her good fortune. For years she had planned to go, but during the last year all her hopes had been knocked into a cocked hat. Depression effects had been the reason.

But business was looking up, she was a brilliant student and she was a chance. So to college she was going.

Her mother asked the family to come to a dinner about three weeks before Judy left. Although Judy did not know it the relatives had asked to come, because they wanted to give Judy a shower. "We bought a few things we thought she might be able to use and want her to have them before you start duplicating them. There are bedroom slippers, soap, bath powders, bathrobe, slippers, handkerchiefs and things of that sort."

Judy knew nothing about all this and as she helped her mother get the dinner she chattered about the outfit Dorothy was buying for her freshman year. As she talked she helped set the table, arranged the flowers and prepared the dessert.

The menu was simple—tomato juice cocktail, chicken pie, green beans with broiled mayonnaise, colelaw, hot rolls, jam and fresh peach snow.

The broiled mayonnaise was made by combining one cup of mayonnaise with one stiffly beaten egg white and two teaspoons lemon juice. The mixture was folded lightly and placed in a shallow dish. This was placed under the broiler and left there until the top was golden brown. It was served hot with the beans. In place of a butter or a Hollandaise sauce. TWO MEN ARE SAVED FROM BURNING SHIP

BUCKROE BEACH, Va., Sept. 14.—(AP)—Two men, one painfully burned, were rescued early today from the flaming two-masted schooner, Alexander Bond, of Newport News, which caught fire after an explosion off Buckroe Beach.

Linnwood Oliver, engineer, was treated for his burns at the army post hospital at Fort Monroe after he and Captain R. W. Foster, of the craft, had been landed at Old Point by the oyster boat Keoughman, of Hampton.

BURGLAR KILLS WOMAN AND INJURES DAUGHTER

MIAMI, Fla., Sept. 14.—(AP)—A bullet from the gun of a negro burglar early today killed Mrs. Stella Mae Pickett, 37, as she lay in bed at her home here.

Her daughter, Winifred, 16, was treated at a hospital for injuries inflicted when the intruder struck her and demanded $50 after her mother had been shot.

Three men were arrested shortly after the shooting and officers, aided by bloodhounds from the Broward county stockade, continued a search for other suspects.

CULBERTSON ON CONTRACT

A Psychic Success

BY ELY CULBERTSON.

World's Champion Player and Greatest Card Analyst.

One of the hands in the recent world championship match for the Charles H. Schwab trophy in London resulted in a psychic success for that great English player, Sir Guy Dommerville, who played through the greater part of the match as the partner of Colonel H. M. Beasley. As a result of his psychic foray, which had its effect both on my partner, Mr. Theodore A. Lightner, and myself, we reached only a Small Slam contract on a hand upon which our English competitors bid and made a Grand Slam. The hand is a rather interesting one, and the bidding deserves close analysis.

1—An atrocious psychic, but it worked to the eternal shame of the American team of two.
2—First step in smoking the psychic fox out. So far Mr. Lightner knows only that I have plenty of diamonds. I may be weak elsewhere.
3—East fears that an invulnerable penalty may be below the value of a game, which seems reasonably certain.
4—West begins to lay the groundwork for a Slam. His main worry is how to convey the impression of the overwhelming strength of his hand.
5—East abstains from bidding five

$342,000,000 LOANED

ON FARMS IN 6 MONTHS

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14.—(AP)—Loans aggregating $342,000,000 were reported today by the farm credit administration for the six months from March 1 through August.

Henry Morgenthau Jr., governor of the administration, said August advances comprised $50,371,000 of this total.

The administration's loans during the six-month period were divided as follows: $22,100,000 by the 12 federal land banks; $2,186,000 by land bank commissions; $97,518,000 by the 12 intermediate credit banks (including discounts); $128,576,000 by the 12 regional agricultural credit corporations; $54,837,000 in emergency crop and feed loans; $39,954,000 to farmers' co-operatives out of the agricultural marketing act's revolving fund.

NEW GULF GASOLINE IS ANNOUNCED TODAY

Unusual interest is expected in the announcement today by the Gulf Refining Company that it has perfected a new gasoline with a higher antiknock rating. Coming at this time, the introduction of a gasoline with an octane rating higher by three to eight points commands the attention not only of the entire oil industry but millions of American motorists as well. Gulf officials say that the newly perfected gasoline is available now at all Gulf service stations and dealers, and that there will be no increase in price over the prevailing price of popular gasolines.

no-trump directly. After all, West's response of three spades may have been forced by the three-club bid.

A very strong bid, indicating a desire for a Slam and at the same time placing the Ace of diamonds. East failed to grasp the full import of this inference. East should have bid six spades. Even though East bid only five, it is difficult to reconstruct East's hand without expectancy of a Grand Slam on something better than a finesse. In Room No. 2, as I have said, the English players reached a Grand Slam. Their bidding was:

North East South West
Pass 1♠ 1♠ 2♠
Pass 2♠ 3♠ 6♠
Pass 7♠ Pass Pass

This bidding is in true "Papa's Mama" fashion. No safeguards are adopted, such as the use of the Four-Five No-trump Convention, simply provides. But in this particular instance it worked.

TOMORROW'S HAND.
If East has opened the bidding and opponents have reached the contract of four spades, what bid should East now make, having in mind the possibility of defeating any higher contract North and South may reach?

Mrs. F. E. Hogan entertained the preschool circle of the College Street school Monday afternoon at her home on Atlanta avenue.

Miss Laura Mae Campbell has returned to Hapeville after spending the summer in Cocoa, Fla. H. H. Ocheltree, of Hapeville, is visiting his mother, Mrs. B. Baroff, at her home on Whitney avenue.

James Brown, of Birmingham, Ala., visited Jack King this week.

The Eliza Jones Sunday school class met at the church Wednesday afternoon.

Mrs. F. E. Hogan entertained Friday afternoon in honor of the birthday of her little son, F. E. Hogan Jr.

Mrs. Will E. Harrison entertained the Book Club Friday afternoon at her home on Virginia avenue. In interesting conversations Mrs. L. T. Carter and Mrs. L. M. Hall were present. Those present were Mesdames E. W. Colwell, Forrest Garrard, D. H. Brown, Raymond Carthy, G. D. Higginbotham, M. Hall, E. M. King and W. E. Harrison.

Miss Ocheltree Weds John N. Wilkinson Jr.

HOGANSVILLE, Ga., Sept. 14.—The marriage of Miss Agatha Ocheltree to John N. Wilkinson Jr. was solemnized at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Ocheltree, of Hogsenville, Monday. Only members of the immediate families of the contracting parties were present. Dr. John G. Graham, pastor of the First Baptist church, Hogsenville, was the officiating minister. The bride was becomingly attired in a brown suit with accessories of white. She was accompanied by her brother, Mr. H. H. Ocheltree, of Hogsenville. She attended the G. S. C. W. College, Milledgeville, and later took a course in commerce in La Grange, Mr. Wilkinson is a graduate of Auburn College and a member of the Phi Delta Theta fraternity. He is associated with his father in the nursery business in Hogsenville.

Decatur Club Names Mrs. Idwal H. Owen As Club Hostess

At the executive board meeting of the Decatur Woman's Club, which was held Monday morning at the home of the president, Mrs. R. C. Henderson, Mrs. Idwal H. Owen was appointed to act as hostess of the club, taking place of Mrs. Roy Jones, whose resignation was accepted with regret. Mrs. Jones, who served the club as president for several years, and afterwards as an exceedingly efficient and popular hostess, has been seriously ill for several weeks, making it necessary to resign from all club duties.

Mrs. S. B. Hong was appointed chairman of child welfare work committee, an office previously held by Mrs. Owen. Plans were discussed as to the best method of disposing of the remaining indebtedness on the clubhouse, which has been reduced to $1,100, and the library committee, composed of Mrs. A. B. Burrus, Mrs. William Allen and Mrs. W. J. Sayward, reported that plans were under way with the object of raising money to apply on both the building and library fund.

The September meeting will be held Friday at the club, with Mrs. Claud Smith as guest speaker. Mesdames W. S. Young and W. S. Elkin will be hostesses and will be assisted by Mesdames D. P. McGeachy, C. H. Blount, E. B. McDonald, Roy Staples, Clyde Z. Walker, J. W. Dobbins, John Milledge, J. M. Webb, John L. Daniel and Marshall George. Mesdames R. I. Rooks, V. A. Richardson and Pittman Sutton, vocal trio, will render selections accompanied by Mrs. Joe Bunch at the piano.

A special feature of the social hour will be a display of zinnias by the members of the garden division of the club, and prizes will be awarded for the best exhibit.

Standard hostesses of roses were arranged on either side of the lectern and stood in striking relief against a background of tropical foliage and palms. Presiding over the ceremony, which was marked by simplicity, Mrs. J. V. Hunt, contralto soloist, sang Carrie Jacob Bond's "I Love You Truly," which she accompanied on the piano.

Mrs. Ruby James left this week for Bayamon, N. J., where she will reside in the future.

Ralph McGill's Football Review

(Editor's Note: Following is the fourth of a series of articles by Ralph McGill, Constitution sports editor, dealing with the football teams in the Southeastern conference. Ralph McGill is now on a tour of the football camps and his articles will give Constitution readers complete and first-hand information on the various teams and players.)

Vanderbilt

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Sept. 14.—If the football experts present will please pull up a chair and take paper and pencil they may figure out those Vanderbilt Commodore themselves.

They have some weight in the line. But their tackles are just big, pleasant boys who write home every week. Or at least that is all they are at present. They may develop into holy terrors.

The backfield will average around 165 pounds. "I do not see any weight or drive back there," said this reporter as he peered at them with Dan McGillin, who was starting his 29th season as head coach at Nashville. (There's a record in itself.)

"Well, he said, 'we hope to be able to shake a boy loose now and then.'"

In other words, the Commodore coach hopes to get some of his fast-stepping boys loose out in the open spaces. In other words, he hopes to hit some home runs. Which is a good idea. Home runs are perfectly swell. Especially with men on bases. But the great trouble about home runs is that there is very often a pitcher who will not permit anyone to bust one over the wall, vulgarly speaking. I mean there are some football defenses which will not permit players to shake themselves loose. Yes, even though they shake as a hula hula dancer or a stomach dancer or a muscle dancer in one of these state fair side shows. They cannot get through some defenses.

JUST TWO REGULARS BACK.

And then the Commodores have just two regular players back on the squad. Just two, Vernon Close and Bill Suhrehrich.

And so the experts may figure the Commodore out themselves—two regulars, some subs from 1932 and a heap of sophomores.

It is a team which may rise up and fight Tennessee to a standstill, or it is one which may lose to Sewanee on Armistice Day. And anyone who says he knows what the Commodore will do is speaking through his fingers. They will likely be pretty good. The Commodore haven't been out of the first division in years and years. But this year's Commodore team is not going to be hanging around in the throne room. It is, I would think, a year away. But as I said before, no one knows anything about these Commodore. They look young, fresh and innocent. But they are working like Trojans. (Those fellows have quite a reputation as workers.) And they have a great spirit. The Commodore have not had that good spirit in the past two years. But all that is gone.

They have one halfback on the squad who rather takes the eye. He is Randall Dixon, a Nashville boy. They tell a story around there that one of his professors tried to interest the Tennessee people in him. But they were not interested. "All right," said the professor, "he will beat you before he leaves Vanderbilt."

The Vanderbilt people naturally hope that is true, having been going through a long famine in so far as victories over the magnificently organized and equipped Tennessee squad is concerned.

The boy does look good. He runs as if he liked to run. He weighs only 165 pounds, but he has the old zip in his legs. He likes to run. And he knows how.

RANDALL DIXON HIT HOME RUN.

I would say that if anyone is to hit home runs for Colonel Dan McGillin this fall it would be Randall Dixon. (And there, incidentally, is a swell name for the central character in that novel you are always about to write. Randall Dixon. I ask you?) The boy can really pick them up and lay them down in some unthought-of places.

There is another sophomore back by the name of Pete Curley. He, too, is a Nashville boy. They have hopes that he will be a Curly Wolf by 1934.

And a Georgia boy named Jim Lucas, from Washington, Ga., is also well liked. He was a student at Gordon Institute.

One of the golfing Oliver, Billy Oliver, from Valdosta, is here as a back, and is also well liked. He and Lucas are the Georgia boys here as backs. William Smith, from Lafayette, Lang Wooten, from Macon; Ernest Godfrey, from Eastman; and Byron Beard, from Smyrna, are the other Georgia boys on the squad. They like them all.

The squad is largely made up of Nashville boys, which is a bit unusual, most boys liking to go away somewhere to get their book and athletic training.

So lacking in experience is the Vanderbilt backfield that a guard may do the quarterbacking duties. I mean the vocal chores. This is Leo Dickinson, a junior from Ashland, Ky., which is just across the Tennessee line. He is smart in his books and smart on the field. And he knows what football plays to call. Hence the Commodore may offer the unusual experiment of a

CUBS ON THE GIANT ASSAULT, WIN SECOND, 4-3

Bruins Cut New York's Lead to 5 1-2 Games. Hartnett Hero.

CHICAGO, Sept. 14.—(AP)—The Cubs warmed up a scanty array of shivering fans today by putting on a stirring ninth-inning rally to defeat the league-leading New York Giants, 4 to 3, in what started out to be the first game of a double-header but wound up as a single contest.

The only victory gave Chicago sole possession of second place and reduced New York's lead in the National league race to 1 1/2 games. The Pittsburgh Pirates, kept idle by rain, dropped to third, a half game behind the Cubs.

After playing through an hour of misty rain and cold that stiffened fingers and contributed to errors, it was decided that one game was enough and the second game was put off to make part of a double-header Saturday. The Cubs already have a double bill scheduled for tomorrow.

HARTNETT WINS.
Going into the ninth trailing 2-3 because of Second Baseman Billy Herman fumbled in the seventh, the Cubs opened up against Fred Fitzsimmons and filled the bases with none out. Gabby Hartnett then drove home the tying and winning runs with a single to center.

Pat Malone, who succeeded Charlie Root after the latter had given way to a pinch hitter in the eighth, drew credit for his ninth victory of the season. It was Fitzsimmons' eleventh defeat.

Riggs Stephenson started Fitz's downfall in the ninth with a single to right. Babe Herman, who was batted Sunday for his first walk, lapped the first pitch for a double down the right-field line, sending Steve to third. After a consolation, it was decided to wait for Adolph Camilli, the young first-sacker whose timely hits have won two games for the Cubs in his first week in the majors. This set the stage for Hartnett's blow. George Davis, Giant center fielder, tried to cut Fitz's lead by hitting a home run, but he was out at first base.

CUBS SCORE TWO.
The Cubs picked up their first two runs in the third, a donation from Manager Bill Terry, of the Giants. Bill Terry, starting with a single, Root attempting to sacrifice, popped to the mound and Fitzsimmons trapped the ball, hoping for a double play. Terry took his throw stepped on the base first to retire Root. Jurgens managed to duck back safely. He then went to third on Stan Hack's hit. Root scored later on a fumble by Blondy Ryan.

The Giants got a run back in the fourth as Harry Crisp led off with a single and Terry doubled to bring him in. They took the lead in the seventh when singles by Davy and Ryan, followed by a double by Jurgens, put runners on second and third and Herman's fumble of Ryan's grounder let them both score.

The victory was the Cubs' 44th in their last 52 home games, their 62nd in 68 games at Wrigley field and their seventh in a row over the Giants in Chicago.

GOLF FACTS NOT THEORIES

ALEX. J. MORRISON

Alex Morrison says:

One of the most difficult things a player has to do is to keep the ball in the right spot in relation to the bottom of his swing.

Very often a player will go along for days with the ball two or three inches too far forward or back.

The player himself can tell better than anyone else when he has the ball in the right spot for his swing.

Six or seven inches in front or behind, it is best to make comparisons occasionally.

For example, in playing run-up shots the ball should always be between your feet and not exactly opposite one or the other!

On any shot the ball should always be between your feet and not exactly opposite one or the other!

BOB THURMOND MAE CAPTAIN A OGLETHORPE

Harry Wrens Named Alternate by Petrel Players After Drill.

By Jack Troy.

Bob Thurmond, end, of Madison, Ga., is the Oglethorpe football captain for 1933. Harry Wrens, of Wrens, Ga., was elected alternate captain.

Coach Harry Robertson called the lettermen to one side at the conclusion of a drill in signals and dummy scrimmage yesterday afternoon and asked for a vote on the captain.

It was a surprise. None of the players expected it. And so there was no chance for politics to enter into the election.

The players themselves call Thurmond one of the cleanest and best-liked players on the squad. His record bears it out.

HEADS STUDENTS.
Thurmond is president of the Oglethorpe student faculty council for the forthcoming school year. He was elected on his merits as a student and his popularity.

Oglethorpe's 1933 captain is a tall, well-built brunet. He is quiet and unassuming.

Thurmond is not assured of a regular position. He is the type of player who plays hard and consistently, but never stands out. He is the valuable type.

But, nevertheless, Thurmond has not clinched a position as yet. The players realized that in electing Thurmond, which is further proof of the esteem in which he is held by the Petrel lettermen.

Thurmond has a good chance to move in at one of the terminal positions, but he faces a real battle. He always has at Oglethorpe, but he has never quit fighting in his quiet, determined way.

FORMER AGGIE.
Before entering Oglethorpe, Thurmond played at Madison A. M. He was captain of the team and president of the student body.

Thurmond is a senior at Oglethorpe and should prove of much assistance to the third team, which is the new team, figured strongly in the voting.

Alternate Captain Harry Wrens is a senior and a wingback.

Phil Hildreth, of Savannah, fullback, and signal caller, and the team, figured strongly in the voting.

Coach Robertson gave the team a pep talk after the drill yesterday, concentrating on signals, timing and passing.

After sending the varsity players in he took the second team backfield and the third team, which are the new team, figured strongly in the voting.

Coach Robertson is still undecided about the third team, which are the new team, figured strongly in the voting.

SOPHOMORES STAR IN TECH SCRIMMAGE

By Jimmy Jones.

Georgia Tech's sophomores, upon whose shoulders a great deal is dependent this year, stepped out with a great deal of inexperience at the Old Rose Bowl yesterday as Coach Alexander put his picked squad of 28 players through its second scrimmage of the week.

Black-haired Billy Street, formerly of Tech High, running at halfback on the first varsity, impressed the gallery with his carrying of the ball and general all-around brilliance on offense. It was the first time that young Billy had been given an opportunity, since the early scrimmage was largely defensive.

But yesterday, Billy, who had been looked upon as a better blocker than runner, showed the assemblage that he is both.

At the same time, the second varsity was parading a little sophomore talent that will bear watching. McKinley, who will be remembered as the throwing half of the McKinley-to-Anderson combination on Decatur High's championship team of two years ago, slipped a forward to Morris Katz, an end, and the latter stepped off 60 yards of the varsity's territory before "Pee Wee" Williams, the right tackle, brought him down from behind with a good tackle.

The varsity also scrimmaged against the Grey Devils and found a freshman back by name of Fritz Owens from Wilkes-Barre, Pa., particularly troublesome. His work was outstanding for his team all afternoon. No casualties resulted from the scrimmage, although Shaw, a line-man, received a bump on the nose that needed only a bit of first aid treatment from Mike Chambers, kit. Coach Alexander, in view of the continued warmth in the weather, did not scrimmage as long as he did Thursday. The heat has been a big handicap.

A report on Wilbur Peterson, injured back, indicated that he would not return to uniform until first of next week. He has been following the practice to keep up with the new plays.

IN-AND-OUT.

Chester Swanson, of Milwaukee, has been signed and released three times this season as an American association umpire and in addition has frequently worked as a substitute arbiter.

Tennessee Team Given Edge Over Purple and Gold.

By Roy White.

Atlanta's football season will be ushered in at 8 o'clock tonight at Ponce de Leon park when Tech High plays Etowah (Tenn.) High in the first of an 11-game schedule. The preps are the first to open the season and the last to close, and starting tonight will play four or five games every week, a majority of which will be played at night.

Tech High opened last year with Etowah and won out, 13 to 8, in one of the best games of the season. The Smithies had hard sledding from the opening game and finished with six wins and five losses, for one of its worst seasons in years.

Etowah developed after the first game and closed out one of its best years, losing the last game to the Tennessee prep champion and winning all others, except the T. H. S. game.

The visitors will return practically all of the 1932 eleven and should give Tech High plenty of trouble, according to reports from the Tennessee mountain city.

Tech High lost a majority of the last year's squad from graduation and the candidates for this year look none too well. One of the largest squads in recent years reported for practice August 21 and the boys have been progressing slowly due to the intense heat.

A long, hard scrimmage Wednesday afternoon saw some 35 of the youngsters in action, but Coach Tolbert was not at all pleased with the results.

The starting lineup will likely see Cronin and Pittman at ends; Orr and Harrison at tackles; Holcomb and Demetrios, guards; Oakes, center, and Perry, Newlands, Barnes and Dowling in the backfield. Orr, Cronin and Demetrios are reserves from last year. Perry is the only veteran from the varsity backfield last year, with Barnes, Newlands and Dowling as newcomers.

Etowah's lineup will see Roy and McClain at ends; Arnold and Johnson at tackles; Lillard and Sargent at guards; J. Long, center, with Leadford, Simpson, Long and McLaney in the backfield.

Mrs. Brennan Back, Finds Husband Dead

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Sept. 14.—(AP)—Mrs. William Brennan, widow of the Southern association umpire, who died at Knoxville last night, arrived here today without knowing her husband was dead.

Mrs. Brennan was on a vacation in Minneapolis when John D. Martin, of the Southern association, telegraphed her when "Big Bill's" condition became critical and Mrs. Brennan started to drive back.

Baseball men, sports writers and physicians who played on football teams Brennan coached at the University of Tennessee medical school here, will serve as pallbearers at the funeral tomorrow.

Southwest Teams Will Meet Tonight

President B. F. Bosley, of the Southwest Sunday School Athletic Association, announces that there will be a meeting at Harrison Griffin and Short Sporting store tonight at 7:30 o'clock in the No. 10 Pryor Street building. The purpose of the meeting is to discuss plans for the basketball season. All teams affiliated with the association during the past two seasons are urged to attend.

Griffin, Palmetto To Resume Playing

PALMETTO, Ga., Sept. 14.—Palmetto High school basketball team, which resumed play last Friday in their championship series on the East Griffin diamond. Palmetto needs this game to win the series as they have won two out of three from Griffin to date.

TENNIS BROTHERS.

The Coleman brothers, Charles and Clem, won both the men's singles and the men's doubles in the Central Kentucky tennis tournament.

Bowling

TWO LOOPS MEET TONIGHT. The initial meeting of the season of the Merchants' duckpin league is scheduled for 8 o'clock this evening at the office of Blick's bowling center. Teams from John B. Daniel Co., Rogers Stores, Pioneer Press, $1,000 Guaranteed Products, Grinnell Company, Atlanta Economy Drug Co., Lamar-Rankin Drug Co., Foremost Dairies and S. A. L. Railway and Candler Building. Garage will be represented at the meeting.

The Gate City duckpin league, a group of new teams is scheduled to meet at 7:30 o'clock at Blick's bowling center to organize for the season. Davidson-Paxon Company, American Can Company, Excelsior Laundry, American Bakeries, Eastern Air Transport, Rich's, Lane's, Lee Baking Company, Bankers' Health and Life Insurance, Parks-Chambers and several other teams are expected to be represented at the meeting.

Ring Cards

WEST LAKE ARENA. Bobbie Kuzlik meets George Romanoff in the one-hour feature wrestling match tonight at West Lake arena. Dan George, from Chicago, and Sam Almond are matched for a semi-final. Another one-hour match brings together Bobbie and Rennie McNeill. A short preliminary opens the card at 8:15 o'clock.

CASCADE ARENA. Charlie Harbin and Allen Dann will head the regular weekly wrestling and boxing card at 8:15 o'clock tonight at the Cascade arena. They will wrestle in the best two-out-of-three falls match.

In the semi-final on the wrestling card Jack Saunders will meet Ambrose Cole. Several boxing matches have been arranged as added attractions.

21 PRIZES EACH WEEK

RULES OF CONTEST

Any person except employees of The Constitution and their families, or any person who is or has been employed in the advertising business is eligible to enter this contest.

All ads must be entered at 137 Peachtree Arcade before 5 p. m. Wednesday of each week.

Winners' names and the first three winning ads will be published the following Sunday.

All entries must be submitted on official "Ad-Writing" paper, which may be obtained at any of the stores co-operating in this contest.

All advertisements must be entered on Wednesday of each week.

Prizes will be awarded to those contestants, who, in the opinion of the judges, "submit the best ad."

By "Best" is Meant: Its Power to Attract Attention—Arouse Interest—Create Desire—Cause Action.

Any contestant may submit as many ads as he or she wishes. (Example).

One or more ads for every firm or two or more for any or all firms.

At headquarters there will be an experienced ad-man to consult with contestants and give any information desired. All entries become the property of The Constitution and no entries will be returned.

Be sure your name and address is plainly written on the back of your ad.

SUGGESTIONS.

1. Be sure you have your official paper.
2. Imagine yourself as being the manager of the store for which you are writing.
3. Get information from the stores as to how long in business, lines of goods in stock, price ranges, names of materials, etc.
4. Try and avoid poetry.
5. Do not use superlatives or comparative prices.

After extracting further nourishment from inflation gossip and credit expansion possibility today commodity markets backed down from their early highs today and closing prices represented generally small net changes.

Shares developed considerable in the first hour, which saw a liberal profit-taking prompted by the market's down, after the best volume of the month, approximately

2,900,000 shares. The averages were up two-tenths of a point.

Dollar exchange resumed its decline, and our currency was quoted around

60 cents, gold value. Senator Harrison's forecast of an inflationary move of some sort and his intimations that it might take the form of dollar devaluation fitted nicely with the tenor of gossip recently heard in Wall

Street, where speculative pulses have been quickened by the possibility that something might be done to aid prices.

Industrial shares were prominent during the market's upturn, Chrysler

General Motors and a number of low-priced issues, including Kellogg, Canada

Dry and Moto Meter traded briskly. Steel was another hesitant

United States Steel losing a fraction changed, lost two-thirds of a three-point advance. Ralls were steady at the close after an earlier flurry.

Utilities dragged all day, and their hesitancy may have imposed a burden on other groups, although the event reaction from foreign markets coincided with a setback for wheat which closed virtually unchanged after advances of a cent or two a bushel.

The government's move to push short-term credit for industry

CLOSE REGULAR

NEW YORK, Sept. 14.—(AP)—

Inflationary fever inspired fresh buying in the curb exchange today but late profit-taking, coupled with heaviness in utilities, resulted in irregularity at the close. Transfers approximate 400,000 shares compared with 300,000 Tuesday.

Alcohols were buoyant during the forenoon but their advances were considerably pared at the finish.

A handful of specialties closed with wide gains. Among them was a gain of 9 points by Singer Manufacturing.

Advances of around 3 points were registered by Baker Oats, Pittsburgh and Lake Erie and Parker Rust Proof.

Losses of 1 to 2 points were registered by American Light & Traction,

Electric Bond & Share, Armstrong

Coke and Aluminum Limited.

BRIGHT SPOTS

NEW YORK, Sept. 14.—(AP)—

The Alcoa, first carrier to report August's earnings, reported income of $270,292 against $54-

161 a year ago.

American Malt Products Company

declared a dividend of $1 on the common stock. In previous quarters the dividend has been $1.50. The disbursement is payable September 20 to holders of record September 21.

Davenport Hosiery Mills, Inc.,

which had paid a dividend of 12.5

cents in the two previous quarters, authorized a disbursement of 60 cents.

The dividend is payable to holders of record September 20.

Chrysler Corporation's sales to distributors and dealers in August were the largest for any August in the company's history, being 5.12 times

the volume for the same month last year. The increase, according to the company's statement, is a statement of the stockholders.

INCREASE IS NOTED

IN LIFE INSURANCE

NEW YORK, Sept. 14.—(AP)—

New life insurance production in August was 3.1 per cent greater than the same month a year ago and reversed

the trend of the previous six months.

The Association of Life Insurance

Presidents reported today that the total August production was $688-

620,000 against $667,918,000 in the same month a year ago. The new business for the first eight months of 1933 was 18.7 under a year ago, the comparable figures being $5,180-

073,000 against $6,368,527,000.

EARLY INFLATION URGED BY SOLONS

Fletcher and Harrison To Seek Quick Action by Next Congress.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14.—(UP) The inflationists broke loose today with a triple demand for cheaper money and higher prices, backed by the virtual certainty that congress, when it meets, will not be held to a sound money program.

On Capitol Hill, quiet for many weeks, Senator Fletcher, democrat, Florida, chairman of the banking and currency committee, and Senator Harrison, democrat, Mississippi, chairman of the finance committee, joined in demanding direct inflationary action, casting flatly that congress would compel the program if the administration did not act. Harrison predicted a new administration monetary policy by mid-October.

At the White House, Senator Murphy, democrat, Iowa, called on President Roosevelt to add his voice to the inflation chorus. Harrison and Fletcher had discussed the issue with Mr. Roosevelt earlier.

Supporting their demands was the remembrance of inflation strength in the last congress, which at the peak of President Roosevelt's influence on the hill insisted upon granting optional inflationary powers which Mr. Roosevelt did not ask.

When congress meets again in January, the inflationists will command a majority of at least 200 votes in the senate and more than 100 in the house, observers believed.

In some circles Harrison, Fletcher and Murphy inflation demands were regarded as the beginning of a determined drive to force action before congress meets, though at the treasury there was every indication of continued opposition.

Harrison emphasized the need of driving the dollar down and thus raising farm prices before the current crop movements and if the farmer is to benefit.

Urges Treasury Action.

Both Fletcher and Harrison said they believed the treasury should issue immediately some or all of the $3,000,000,000 in treasury notes au-

Woman Damages Car To Avoid Hitting Dog

Rather than risk hitting a small mongrel dog caught in the wheel of traffic, Mrs. Fred Beecham, of 1178 Lucile avenue, drove her car onto the sidewalk and into a water plug Thursday afternoon, according to police reports.

Mrs. Beecham said the little dog wandered into the street at Whiteford avenue near Wythe street and darted into the path of her machine. She swerved quickly to avoid striking it and hit the water plug before she could stop. Her automobile was badly damaged but she was not hurt. Neither was the small dog, which disappeared without thanking Mrs. Beecham for saving his life.

Authorized under the Thomas amendment, though neither indicated any expectation that this action would be taken.

Harrison indicated, however, a belief that the administration soon might revalue the gold dollar, another inflation move authorized by the Thomas amendment.

The argument was that the price of gold in the domestic market be raised above the world price; that an equalization fund be formed to deal in foreign exchange and force the value of the dollar down and keep it there; and that treasury notes be issued against new purchases of silver.

Harrison contended that open market operations of the federal reserve banks to inflate credit were not enough. The current government bond purchases of $35,000,000 and more were, he suggested.

The senator attacked banks which he said had "not shown a high degree of patriotism in extending credit."

"There is a growing feeling in agricultural sections that unless commodity prices rise the success of the president's program may be in some doubt," he said. "If something isn't done, the farmer is going to be good-bye—I mean the baby agricultural prosperity. The president and others are sincerely anxious to lift the price of agricultural products. My belief is that something will be done—is being done."

BERNARD M. BARUCH ARRIVES AT QUEBEC

QUEBEC, Sept. 14.—(AP)—Bernard M. Baruch, New York financier, arrived here today aboard the liner Empress of Britain.

The financier is returning home after spending several weeks in Great Britain and the continent.

BARRETT SCORES REGIME OF KEY

'False Economies' Laid to Mayor by Former Member of Council.

Former Councilman Ellis B. Barrett, seeking nomination in Wednesday's primary as alderman from the thirteenth ward, Thursday night trained his oratorical guns on alleged "false economies" of the James L. Key administration as he and Alvin L. Richards, incumbent, broke their campaign of silence on two stumps.

Appealing to a large group gathered at the municipal auditorium meeting under the auspices of the Voters' Council "not to convict me without a hearing and endorse my opponent," Barrett assailed the Key regime for "lack of perspective in making slashes and effective economies in governmental operation."

The other outburst occurred at a meeting sponsored by Councilman J. Raymond Curtis, of the tenth ward, who is opposed for renomination by former Councilman W. Garland Cooper.

R. K. Rambo, chairman of the executive committee of the Voters' Council, presided at the meeting at the auditorium, and nearly a score of candidates paraded before the audience making bids for votes.

"I was advised not to come to this meeting," Barrett said as he opened his address. "I was told that this group intended to endorse my opponent—that the matter was settled and that I was to be convicted without having been given a hearing."

Charges Political Move.

"Don't convict me without hearing me. I didn't have a chance in the world in council because the mayor did not like me. He made me a member of the whiffle bats (referring to an application applied to a group by the Key when they failed to subscribe to his economic policies). He also put me on the look-out committee (another name applied to the same group)."

"I say that government figures show that Atlanta collected $415,000 more money last year than was expended in governmental operation. I asked Alderman Millican what was done with it. He did not know."

"Did you see the afternoon papers? They are going to put 10 per cent of the salary cuts imposed on employees back. I said they would. This is a political move."

"I tried to defend and protect those who could not protect themselves while I was in council. I'll do it again. If you do not want the poor man to get a chance, don't vote for me Wednesday, because as long as I have a voice and am a member of council I'll lift it to keep men from being cut from their jobs and forced on the bread lines."

It was announced at a meeting at the Ansley hotel Tuesday night that a preferential ticket would be named for the citizens' committee at Thursday night's meeting at the auditorium, but after Barrett's address the meeting adjourned without any action in that direction.

Mayor Key stopped by the auditorium, but had left when Barrett's indictment of the administration policies was delivered.

Richards cited his record as an alderman and asked for an "endorsement of a faithful, honest administration of my trust."

"I came into council at an unfortunate time," Richards said. "It was imperative that expenses be cut, that taxpayers be given some relief from heavy tax burdens. We have met the conditions confronting us as courageously as possible under the circumstances."

"Every vote of mine has been in the interest of Atlanta. I am glad that I can come to you with a clean record and ask you to endorse it."

"We have cut more than $1,000,000 a year from expense of operation. We have reduced tax assessments about $100,000,000 and plan further reductions. If we have the backing of the voters we can continue to give citizens good government. I want your support Wednesday."

Foster Appeals for Support.

Councilman Homer C. Foster, seeking the nomination as alderman from the ninth ward, who has not yet recovered from an attack by a drunken negro automobile driver, appeared at the meeting on crutches, but was

Feeding Mill Workers Brings Cuban Problem

HAVANA, Sept. 14.—(AP)—Officials of the Mahab Sugar mill doubt the wisdom of good Samaritanism.

Eight hundred employees of the Oriente province mill recently struck for higher pay, and shorter hours. Their attitude appeared menacing.

A delegate from the new revolutionary government arrived to settle the strike. In the midst of negotiations the officials appropriated something like $300 to feed the workers.

News that free food was available at the mill spread, and now more than 1,000 persons are camped about the plant, demanding free meals.

Forced to sit as he appealed for support.

Foster told of his record in council in support of economical and efficient government, and asked an endorsement of "my program which was to support the Key administration when I thought it right and to oppose it when it was wrong."

J. Glover Hailey, opposing Foster, said he was not indignant by Foster's oratory and that he would vote his convictions fearlessly.

Hugh Lyndon, third entrant, also spoke, asking support for his candidacy.

Others who spoke at the auditorium meeting included the following candidates:

Dr. I. N. Etheridge, candidate for alderman from the second ward, who promised taxpayers the first consideration; James R. Jackson, alderman from the third ward, who told the audience that if all persons paid their equitable portion of taxes, there would be enough to meet expenses of government.

Dr. J. M. Owen, sixth ward councilman, who pointed to his record as a progressive independent; W. F. Moore, Owen's opponent along with former Councilman Harry York, who asked that he be sent to council to aid his ward and citizens all over Atlanta; McWhorter Milner, opposing Councilman John T. Marler, of the seventh ward, who said he stood for a constructive and efficient government; Mrs. Grady Andrews and D. M. Therrell, candidates for the Atlanta League of Women Voters, of the eighth ward.

Judge Edgar Watkins appealed to the audience as the meeting opened to seek the man for political jobs and to vote intelligently on all matters, and Mrs. R. L. Turman, of the Atlanta League of Women Voters, explained a moneyless campaign.

About 200 persons attended Curtis' meeting at the Ragdale school and virtually all city-wide candidates spoke. He will hold another rally beginning at 7:45 o'clock tonight at the Capitol View school.

Friends of Councilman Marler met Thursday night and will meet again Tuesday night at 7:30 o'clock at his home, 505 Hopkins street, S.W.

All candidates were invited to speak at a fish fry at Madox park Saturday. The event will begin at 11 o'clock in the morning and will continue until 7 o'clock Saturday night, Alderman Marler said.

The police band will furnish music between the hours of 11 until 3 o'clock, and the firemen's band will be present from 3 until 6.

IRISHMEN DESTROY BRITISH BEER CARGO

DUNDALK, Irish Free State, Sept. 14.—(AP)—A dozen men carrying arms held up the staff of the Dundalk junction railway station today and, when a freight train from Dublin arrived, broke the seals of several cars and destroyed a number of barrels of English ale.

The attackers did not touch the Irish beer aboard the train. There have been numerous instances recently of the destruction of English beer as part of the anti-British campaign in the Free State.

MISSISSIPPI MAY VOTE
OCTOBER 24 ON REPEAL

JACKSON, Miss., Sept. 14.—(AP) Mississippi probably will vote on repeal of the eighteenth amendment October 24—if at all—it was indicated today as Governor Sennett Conner definitely announced that if the legislature is called to consider a constitutional convention he will submit beer and repeal legislation at the same time.

Howard Dismisses Barbers' Injunction

Holding that there is no state law under which the situation could be handled, but that the entire matter is up to the national recovery administration, Judge G. H. Howard, of Fulton superior court, has dismissed an injunction which had been issued against a group of Atlanta barbers to prevent them from cutting prices under those charged by other barbers.

Judge Howard said that no court is authorized to interfere, under the law, and that the suit was dismissed without prejudice to the rights of the parties, on motion by the plaintiffs.

Plaintiffs were Luther Alverson, Thomas Stokes, Charles Edward Zink, and Dave Reynolds, who charged that the group signed an agreement with other barbers to maintain a price level based on 40-cent haircuts, and

$25,660,000 ALLOTTED FOR PUBLIC WORKS

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14.—(AP)—The public works administration today allotted $25,660,000 for public works, including $22,000,000 for construction of locks and dams on the upper Mississippi river.

The navy department was allotted $2,100,000 for tools, shop equipment and heavy machinery.

An allotment of $1,500,000 was made for construction work in Puerto Rico, of which $1,000,000 will go for public roads and highways.

An allotment of $60,000 was made for flood control work on the Rio Grande, near San Benito, Texas.
